FIGHTING 'VERY HEAVY'

TWO REPORTS REVEAL . . .

Fair Tragedy Cause Unknown

By JOHN DeCAMP
Star Staff Writer

The long awaited official reports regarding the Sunday carnival ride crash at the state fair added up to one thing when they were released at 2:30 Thursday afternoon—crash cause unknown, investigation still continuing.

But carnival owner William T. Collins, shaken after seeing the reports, swore he would "damn well find the cause, and that's for sure."

Collins himself built the $100,000 Sky Ride which toppled to the ground crushing and maiming bystanders and passengers. Two were killed and more than fifty injured in the fair's worst catastrophy

No Final Conclusion

Two reports were released, one by Governor Morrison presented him by the State Department of Labor and the other was released by Fair Manager Henry Brandt and compiled by a local engineering firm.

The two paragraph engineering firm report read by Brandt said, "At this time we cannot express a final conclusion as the cause of this accident."

It suggested that further study be made, particularly with the original designers of the ride. The report concluded by saying that ". . . a speculative answer based on a portion of the data should not be made."

The State Labor Dept. report, compiled primarily by State Safety Inspector Ben Zersen, suggested possibilities where trouble might have occurred, but did not make any definite conclusions as to the cause of the crash.

'Preliminary'

Governor Morrison said when questioned about the labor department report:

"The report is only preliminary at very best. It does not embrace all the facets of the machine and the machine's mechanical makeup. Further investigation will definitely be carried out by the labor department in an attempt to determine the cause. I am confident the fair board will get to the bottom of this after complete and careful investigation"

Fair Manager Brandt said flatly when questioned about the cause of the tragedy: 'Cause is not known at this time"

The State Labor Dept. report suggested that the cable of the Sky Ride might have become "inflated" thus "making it very possible that when this spot in the cable came to the sheave . . . it caused the cable to jam, pulling the tower down."

But Collins, who built the machine "with his own hands", declared that the labor department inspectors had mistaken a splice in the cable for a dangerous bulge. "If there was a strand broke in the cable," Collins shouted, "then maybe it would show where a cable could have gotten caught. But there weren't any strands broke. Any cable has areas in it where it is slightly thicker in one spot than another. But the sheaves in the ride are intentionally designed to allow for this. That cable never caught."

'Old Carnival Man'

Then Collins added quietly as an afterthought: "Course, they're supposed to be engineers—and I'm just an old carnival man."

In a release Collins presented to the press, he expressed his sympathy for the "victims and their families," and said: "It has been my policy in the 35 years in the carnival business to provide the best and safest shows that are humanly possible to have. My record speaks for itself."

Collins has his own engineers studying the sky ride. He intends to take the sky ride to Minneapolis, set it up "exactly as it was in Lincoln, fill the gondolas of the machine with sand bags, and test and test and test the machine 'till," he finds what caused the tragic crash. "The sky ride will be used again," he emphasized.

'Not Our Prerogative'

When asked whether the fair board would "attach the property of the W. T. Collins Shows which operated the Sky Lift," Brandt replied: "It is not our prerogative to attach anything."

The governor congratulated Brandt and the fair board for their promptness in ordering an investigation and on their "long and enviable record of safety over the years."

Future reports from either the State Labor Department or the engineering firm hired by the fair board will be discussed jointly by the governor and the board, Brandt and Morrison said.

The engineering firm preparing the reports and doing the investigation for the State Fair Board is also doing the investigation for the insurance company which had the insurance covering the ride.

Companion Suits

Companion suits filed by Myron Nelson and his wife, Betty Nelson, named the State Board of Agriculture, W. T. Collins Shows Inc., and Supreme Rides Inc. as defendants.

They allege that the defendants "owed a duty to the plaintiffs to make the Sky Lift safe for the plaintiffs' use or to warn plaintiffs of the unsafe or dangerous conditions of the Sky Lift which were known to defendants or could be ascertained by them with reasonable care."

The Rotschafer suit seeks $200,026 in damages, alleging that the 14-year-old youth suffered a broken back, cannot walk and may never be able to walk

Fair Champion Brings $2,395

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Gold & Co. have "Seymour" the 1965 state fair grand champion 4-H steer and Mary Beth Wielage of Beaver Crossing has $2,395.

This is what happened at the 4-H market beef sale Thursday as William Gold II, a long-time friend and supporter of 4-H, outlasted Foster Miller of Fosters Cafe of Lincoln in posting the top bid of $2.50 per pound for the grand champion, 15 cents above last years bid made by Miller for the champion.

Sale time found those tears that bothered Mary Beth the day of the show gone, in place she had a big hug and kiss awaiting Gold to show her appreciation for the purchase.

Takes Reserve

Miller followed quickly by bidding $1.20 on Ronny Morgan's reserve grand champion Hereford that had been the breed champion. Ronny's return on "Jed" was a total of $1,159.20.

Bob Fulton of Bob's Market of Lincoln, who set a new record at the sheep sale Wednesday was a strong bidder on the beef winners taking Kay Geiger's grand champion market heifer for 47.5 cents per pound.

All three top buyers were members of the Lincoln Jaycee Club of Champions, and this group of business and professional men continued to supply support on the purple ribbon winners and other tops.

Other Top Sales

Other early sales from the top winners with buyer and seller representing a member of the Club of Champions were; reserve grand champion heifer, 30 cents per pound, paid to Maynard Struempler, Oconto, by Lincoln Steel Corp.; champion Shorthorn steer, 36 cents per pound, paid to Susan Stork of Blair, by Lincoln Welding Co ; champion Hereford sale steer, 31 cents per pound, paid to Sandra Struempler, Oconto, by Barth Hardware of Lincoln; champion crossbred sale steer, 40 cents per pound, paid to Dennis Lane, Beatrice, by O A. Cooper Co. Humboldt·

Twenty-eight purple ribbon steers, excluding the breed champions and reserve champions, brought an average of 30 cents per pound.

Prices ranged from 27 cents to 44 cents per pound on the 302 blue ribbon market steers and heifers that followed in the sale.

Lahore Battle Crucial . . . AS TEST

New Delhi, India (AP)—Both sides reported tank battles Thursday and India said there was "very heavy fighting" between Indian and Pakistani armies as U.N. Secretary-General U Thant arrived in Pakistan on his peace mission in this tormented subcontinent.

Forces of the two nations were reported battling on the dusty northern plains of India and Pakistan along routes conquerors have used for centuries.

85 Tanks Claimed

India claimed it had destroyed 75 U.S.-made Pakistani tanks in the past 24 hours and now has knocked out a total of 114.

Pakistan claimed all Indian drives into Pakistani territory had been stopped and 10 Indian tanks destroyed.

Both sides reported throwing in more tanks and jet fighters.

The main battle appeared to be on the Lahore front near the Pakistani city of Kasur and the Indian city of Ferozepore, where Pakistan claims to have made a penetration of Punjab state. Kasur is 30 miles south of Lahore. Ferozepore is 10 miles inside India 40 miles south of Lahore.

Tank, Fighter Test

The developing battle there was viewed in New Delhi as highly important because it was a test of the main portions of both armies' armored units and the air forces' ground support fighters.

A Pakistani spokesman in Rawalpindi said India's offensive through this sector and into Pakistan territory had been thrown back across the international border and many Indians were captured.

He claimed Pakistani units also had stopped the two Indian attacks across the international frontier in the Sialkot and Gadra sectors.

Indians had hoped these attacks in the distant south and north would spread Pakistan's forces preventing any massing of tank and infantry units for a counterattack.

An evening communique issued by New Delhi. however. indicated not all was going well on the battlefield

Carts From Lahore

In a disptach from Lahore, AP correspondent Joe McGowan Jr. said large numbers of peasants were streaming from the battle area in bullock carts

Visiting the Kasur front, he found Pakistan troops dug in along a canal bank The fields nearby were littered with the bloated carcasses of water buffalo, and burned-out Indian trucks. Nearby were two disabled Pakistani tanks a wrecked truck and what was left of the villagers' mud-brick homes

In Lahore itself, he said, an American housewife said she and many of her friends were learning to sleep during the day because of night-long artillery duels.

"It's quite disconcerting to have windows rattling all night and to see shells bursting in the air," she said "We have also had the jet fighters screaming over the city"

Parachutists Keep Dropping

Air battles were reported in many sectors and paratroopers were said to be landing in widespread areas of both countries on sabotage missions behind the lines

Armed bands of Indian home guards were patrolling the streets of New Delhi and nearby villages on the lookout for paratroopers

Civilians in the blacked-out streets were challenged and many arrested.

Armed Bandit Gets $100 From Station

By RICHARD BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

A lone bandit held up the DX Service Station at 5325 Cornhusker at 2.35 p m Thursday and escaped with an estimated $100 in bills.

He was driving a 1961 maroon and white Oldsmoble reported stolen in Omaha about an hour before the holdup, police said.

The man, described as neat, about 5-10 and weighing 160 pounds, entered the station after buying two gallons of gas from station attendant Carl Westling, 6437 Benton, who was alone at the time

"He told me to open the cash register," Westling said, adding that the man then said, "I've got it (the gun) on safety, but I will take it off if you don't (open the cash register)."

Westling made a circle about an inch and a half across with his fingers.

"That barrel looked about that big," he said

The gun was a black automatic pistol, caliber unknown, Westling said.

After forcing Westling to open the cash drawer, the bandit made Westling turn around. The man scooped up the money and fled, Westling said.

Hurricane Betsy Slams New Orleans; Many Flee

New Orleans (AP) — Hurricane Betsy slammed into New Orleans Thursday night, forcing thousands of residents to flee homes threatened with flooding.

Howling winds sent the waters of Lake Pontchartrain splashing over seawalls and levees on the northern edge of the city.

With Betsy's winds at 150 miles an hour, Mayor Victor Schiro urged residents of the lakefront section—much of it the blue-stocking neighborhood of New Orleans—to seek shelter

Churches, Schools

Thousands streamed into hastily opened churches and schools. The city auditorium and city and state office buildings were pressed into service as evacuation centers

More than 10,000 homes were without electricity as power lines popped and trees snapped under the hurricane winds. The city's television and radio stations—only means of keeping residents posted on Betsy's progress—frequently were silenced by power failures.

This carnival city, which fears high water more than it does howling winds, was almost deserted downtown. The gay French Quarter looked like a ghost town, its windows barred or taped against the high winds

Below Sea Level

New Orleans, lying below sea level and between Lake Pontchartrain and the Mississippi River, depends on seawalls and levees to prevent flooding

Black and red hurricane warning flags were flying as far east as Pensacola, Fla.

Betsy, which battered the Bahama Islands and south Florida earlier in the week, covered a 500-mile-wide area. Hurricane winds extended out 90 miles from the center, with gale winds running out 250 miles.

Pounding surf, raging tides and whistling winds ripped across the beaches in Mississippi, Alabama and the Florida Panhandle. One tornado damaged a dozen boats at Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

Grand Isle Diehards

Grand Isle, 55 miles south of New Orleans, and Burrwood — southernmost point in Louisiana — were the first communities to get Betsy's full impact since the storm left the Florida Keys. Both had been evacuated hours earlier except for a few diehards reported riding out the storm on Grand Isle.

Upwards of 100,000 people evacuated their homes in low-lying areas of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama as the giant storm pushed relentlessly forward.

Gusts up to 70 miles an hour sent towering waves splashing against the second floor level of a lighthouse at New Orleans' lakefront marina.

LBJ Mum On Choice Of Housing Secretary

Washington (AP) — President Johnson's signature Thursday brought to reality the long-sought creation of a Cabinet post to speak for urban dwellers but he left unanswered—without a hint—who will get the job.

A large gathering in the White House Rose Garden—mayors, members of Congress, officials, home builders and others — witnessed the ceremony, climax to a battle in Congress launched in the Kennedy administration.

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers told reporters afterward he does not know who Johnson is considering to head the new Housing and Urban Development Department, the 11th Cabinet post, nor when he might announce a decision

The actual creation of the new department is effective 60 days from now.

Second America

Johnson, in signing the bill, said "we must literally build a second America" in the next 35 years. Creation of the department is "the first step toward organizing our system for a more rational response to the pressing challenge of urban life," he said.

Among those present at the signing was the man most frequently mentioned to fill the new Cabinet post. Robert C. Weaver, who if chosen would be the first Negro Cabinet member. He is director of the Housing and Home Finance Agency which forms the nucleus of the new department.

Also on hand were some mayors mentioned as possible choices for the post — including Robert F Wagner of New York and Richard J Daley of Chicago Another potential high on the list is Albert Rains, an Alabama Democrat who specialized in housing legislation while a member of Congress

JFK Eyed Weaver

The late President John F. Kennedy had named Weaver as his choice for the post when he sought creation of the department in 1961 and this was a factor in the plan being killed twice in the house in 1962

The department will bring under one head several agencies now scattered, not only in fields of housing but urban transportation and others. Provision is made for studying the practicality of bringing in others.

Two agencies will retain their names and identities under the department — the Federal Housing Administration and the Federal National Mortgage Association There is provision for one assistant secretary to administer FHA programs which deal with the private mortgage market

Two reports were released, one by Governor Morrison presented him by the State Department of Labor and the other was released by Fair Manager Henry Brandt and compiled by a local engineering firm.

"The sky ride will be used again," he emphasized.

'Not Our Prerogative'

When asked whether the fair board would "attach the property of the W. T. Collins Shows which operated the Sky Lift," Brandt replied: "It is not our prerogative to attach anything."

The governor congratulated Brandt and the fair board for their promptness in ordering an investigation and on their "long and enviable record of safety over the years."

Future reports from either the State Labor Department or the engineering firm hired by the fair board will be discussed jointly by the governor and the board, Brandt and Morrison said.

New Orleans, lying below sea level and between Lake Pontchartrain and the Mississippi River, depends on seawalls and levees to prevent flooding.

Black and red hurricane warning flags were flying as far east as Pensacola, Fla.

Betsy, which battered the Bahama Islands and south Florida earlier in the week, covered a 500-mile-wide area. Hurricane winds extended out 90 miles from the center, with gale winds running out 250 miles.

Pounding surf, raging tides and whistling winds ripped across the beaches in Mississippi, Alabama and the Florida Panhandle. One tornado damaged a dozen boats at Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

Grand Isle Diehards

Grand Isle, 55 miles south of New Orleans, and Burrwood — southernmost point in Louisiana — were the first communities to get Betsy's full impact since the storm left the Florida Keys. Both had been evacuated hours earlier, except for a few diehards reported riding out the storm on Grand Isle.

Upwards of 100,000 people evacuated their homes in low-lying areas of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama as the giant storm pushed relentlessly forward.

Gusts up to 70 miles an hour sent towering waves splashing against the second floor level of a lighthouse at New Orleans' lakefront marina.

LBJ Mum On Choice Of Housing Secretary

Washington (AP) — President Johnson's signature Thursday brought to reality the long-sought creation of a Cabinet post to speak for urban dwellers, but he left unanswered—without a hint—who will get the job.

A large gathering in the White House Rose Garden—mayors, members of Congress, officials, home builders and others — witnessed the ceremony, climax to a battle in Congress launched in the Kennedy administration.

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers told reporters afterward he does not know who Johnson is considering to head the new Housing and Urban Development Department, the 11th Cabinet post, nor when he might announce a decision.

The actual creation of the new department is effective 60 days from now.

Second America

Johnson, in signing the bill, said "we must literally build a second America" in the next 35 years. Creation of the department is "the first step toward organizing our system for a more rational response to the pressing challenge of urban life," he said.

Among those present at the signing was the man most frequently mentioned to fill the new Cabinet post, Robert C. Weaver, who if chosen would be the first Negro Cabinet member. He is director of the Housing and Home Finance Agency which forms the nucleus of the new department.

Also on hand were some mayors mentioned as possible choices for the post — including Robert F. Wagner of New York and Richard J. Daley of Chicago. Another potential high on the list is Albert Rains, an Alabama Democrat who specialized in housing legislation while a member of Congress.

JFK Eyed Weaver

The late President John F. Kennedy had named Weaver as his choice for the post when he sought creation of the department in 1961, and this was a factor in the plan being killed twice in the house in 1962.

The department will bring under one head several agencies now scattered, not only in fields of housing but urban transportation and others. Provision is made for studying the practicality of bringing in others.

Two agencies will retain their names and identities under the department — the Federal Housing Administration and the Federal National Mortgage Association. There is provision for one assistant secretary to administer FHA programs which deal with the private mortgage market.

U.S. Neutrality May Anger Both Sides

Washington (AP) -- The United States proclaimed a posture of neutrality Thursday in the India-Pakistan conflict over Kashmir and looked to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to get the fighting stopped through a cease-fire

Charges from Communist China's Premier Chou En-lai that the United States is supporting what he termed India's "massive armed attack on Pakistan" were labeled sheer nonsense by a State Department spokesman.

Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey told newsmen they would be ill-advised to depict the United States as taking sides in the undeclared war over Kashmir.

"The U.S. position is one of impartiality," he declared.

McCloskey also said the United States is not aware of any agreement calling for Communist China to provide military assistance to Pakistan.

In a Senate speech, Democratic majority leader Mike Mansfield of Montana proposed the United States and other nations providing aid to the two belligerents promise to adjust their assistance to conform with any decision taken by the U.N. Security Council to bring peace to the subcontinent.

This would give the Security Council the ability to cut off the flow of about $1 billion in external aid to India and about $600 million to Pakistan in the next 12 months.

In the House, Republican efforts arbitrarily to cut off aid to India and Pakistan because of the Kashmir fighting were successfully resisted by the Democratic majority on the grounds that this would restrict President Johnson's flexibility.

It's 'Essential'

Mansfield told the Senate that "flexibility is essential to the President if he is to make these (foreign aid) adjustments effectively."

Mansfield said, "The great necessity is for a common course at this critical time."

Declaring the aid programs of the United States and other countries "must be made to serve the ends of a restoration of peace," Mansfield said:

Just how this can be done is not clear. But this nation ought to be prepared to join with other nations in a common pledge that aid programs in which they may be engaged in both India and Pakistan, within their present dimensions will be adjusted at the request of and in accordance with any relevant decisions of the United Nations Security Council."

Javits' Motion

From the Republican side, Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York introduced a resolution that would express congressional support and encouragement of U.N. efforts to obtain a cease-fire.

"I do not feel that this is the time for Congress to tie the hands of the President in the dispensing of nonmilitary aid to India and Pakistan," Javits said.

The Senate Appropriations Committee was considering the $4-billion foreign aid bill passed by the House.

Critical Phase

U.S. authorities considered the U Thant mission to India-Pakistan to have reached a critical phase.

The most appropriate action the United States can take at present officials said, is to give the secretary general the fullest American support.

The posture of neutrality is likely to anger both Indian and Pakistani leaders. India has sought a clear-cut U.S. pledge to help attain the withdrawal of all Pakistani infiltrators, as part of a cease-fire.

Pakistan, which looks to the United States as an ally, is depending on Washington's support for a vote by the people of Kashmir to determine their own future. Self-determination has long been a fundamental of American foreign policy.

De Gaulle May Cut NATO Ties By 1969

Paris (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle Thursday posed a threat to pull France out of the Atlantic Alliance (NATO) unless its integrated military command structure is abolished by 1969 at the latest.

He repeatedly emphasized the theme of national independence, and lashed out at the "subordination" which he professed to find in NATO and in the European Common Market.

He told reporters at a news conference — his 12th—that they would "certainly" know within two months whether he intends to run for re-election Dec. 5 but his remarks on other subjects seemed to hint he intends to be on the scene as president for another seven-year term.

The NATO integrated command, first established by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, is an international defense headquarters in which officers from various nations serve in mixed fashion without reference to nationality.

Since its inception, it has always been headed by an American—now Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer. De Gaulle dislikes having French officers taking orders from foreigners, and is reported to feel the integrated system makes an officer lose his sense of nationality.

Abolishing the integrated system would mean the end of any allied-type headquarters and leave Western defense to a classic system of national alliances such as existed at the time of World War I. De Gaulle did not advance any alternative to integration.

De Gaulle stressed that French defense must have full freedom of action to back up independent French world policies.

If the other NATO members insist on retaining the integrated command system, De Gaulle clearly implied France would leave the organization. The others then would have to move their main headquarters, now about 12 miles west of Paris, to someplace like Brussels.

They grey and aging president—he will be 75 Nov. 22—asserted France must be free and unfettered in its world and European policies.

THUMB-POINTING . . . Cooper refers query to Gilruth. Interested Conrad, right, awaits answer.

Cooper, Conrad Relate Thrills, Chills

Space Center, Houston (UPI) — World cosmic champions Gordon Cooper and Charles (Pete) Conrad Thursday calmly told a thrills-and-chills story of watching rockets, hurricanes and shooting stars during eight record days in space.

In doing so, they became "very potential candidates" for a moon flight.

Sometimes seriously and sometimes humorously, the smiling spacemen told the world what they have been telling anxious scientists and engineers for the past 11 days —that the many things that went wrong with Gemini 5 were a very small part of what went right.

14 Days Possible

"I think we could have gone on 14 days," said Cooper. The 38-year-old Cooper and Conrad, three years his junior, came through in "extremely fine" physical condition.

"I consider them very potential candidates for flights to the moon," said Dr. Robert Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center.

The astronauts' wives sat fascinated in the audience at the news conference which marked the last formal part of the Gemini 5 program for Cooper and Conrad.

What They Carried

Cooper disclosed he carried a Masonic coin, a Spanish piece of eight and small American and Masonic flags as keepsakes. Conrad carried his Navy wings and a St. Christopher's Medal that had been blessed by Pope John XXIII, as well as flags.

Then, for the first time since early August, they went home with their families. Like thousands of other east Texas families, they waited anxiously to find out where Hurricane Betsy would strike.

Ironically, Gemini 5 pilot Cooper and his singing, poetry-reciting copilot Conrad possibly were the first to spot Betsy. On Aug. 29, it forced them to end their flight after 120 orbits, one circuit short of that originally planned.

Betsy As Baby

To prove it, they produced a picture of Betsy "in its infancy," as a mottled white splotch off the northeastern shoulder of Brazil.

"You can get a good idea of the cyclonic formation in it," observed Conrad.

Chosing to play down the "cliff-hanger" aspects that threatened to end the flight as practically anytime after the first hour, Cooper painted a fascinating story that started with the thunderous blast-off Aug. 21 aboard a Titan 2 rocket — "a real Cadillac"—to a blazing re-entry made all the more spectacular by "a great deal of fire and light."

In between were 190 hours 56 minutes spiced by doubt caused by a series of relatively minor problems, frustrations in trying to conduct some visual experiments, tedious difficulties with stowage, food that was not as appetizing as they would have liked, and an inadvertent short landing.

Former Husker Is Police Recruit

Willie Paschall, 22, of 645 No. 25th, was one of two new recruits hired recently by the Lincoln Police Department. Paschall is a former University of Nebraska football player

Second man on the recruit list is Vernon E Campbell, a native of Lincoln, who lives at 4425 No 69th

Both will probably begin duties walking beats or as jailers in the near future, according to Lt Dale Adams, training officer.

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, praised Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield for his "splendid leadership."

Man, Girl Captured; He Admits 4 Killings

Flagstaff, Ariz (AP)—A man and woman sought in several slayings were captured here late Thursday, and officers said the man admitted four killings

Coconino County sheriff's deputies identified them as Donald Boggs, 23, of Londonderry, Ohio, and Dixie Radcliff, 16, of Ames, Ohio.

The girl was arrested sitting in a car registered to Warren Lenker 25, of Elizabethville Pa , one of four murder victims

Boggs was picked up a short distance away in an Indian trading post trying to sell some articles

Used Credit Card

Sheriff Cecil Richardson said Boggs was identified as a man who bought gas Wednesday at another Flagstaff service station and used a credit card made out to Robert Willis, 23, of Newport, N.H., tentatively identified as one of two men who were killed near Ash Fork, Ariz. The other was Halvor Johnson, 28, also of Newpot

Richardson said Boggs admitted the killings of Lenker, Willis, Johnson and H. B. Flory, 59, of San Antonio, Tex.

"I guess I am going to burn Richardson quoted Boggs as saying "If you don't burn me, Texas or Utah will."

No Reason

Richardson said Boggs gave no reason for the killings "He said he picked up the two he killed near Ash Fork Sunday and killed them Monday," the sheriff added

Richardson quoted Boggs as saying he took Willis' car and drove to Las Vegas, Nev., after spending Monday night in a community called Sleepy Hollow, not far from Ash Fork on U.S. 66.

He said he drove to Las Vegas through St. George, Utah, before deciding to get rid of the car because the lights were not working well

Killed, Bound Him

Boggs told authorities he met Lenker, tied his hands behind him after killing him and left him in Willis' car 35 miles north of Cedar City.

Richardson said a .22 caliber Ruger pistol was found in the car used by the couple. He said Boggs told him he stole the gun from Flory's truck

Flory, a fisherman, was beaten and thrown into the San Marcos River near Luling Tex The killer took Flory's pick-up truck, which contained a small caliber pistol and abandoned the vehicle at Sayre, Okla Friday

U Thant, Ayub Discuss 'Very Grave' Situation

Rawalpindi, Pakistan (UPI) —United Nations Secretary General U Thant and President Mohammad Ayub Khan Thursday discussed the "very grave" situation caused by the undeclared Indian-Pakistani border war. It was his first meeting with a leader of none of the governments involved.

Thant, on a peace-seeking mission ordered by the Security Council which later will take him to New Delhi, held his conference with the Pakistani president at Ayub's residence.

He met earlier with Pakistani Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto and Foreign Secretaries Aziz Ahmad and Agha Shawi.

"The situation is very grave," Thant told reporters after his plane landed at Chaklala Airport on a flight from Karachi. The secretary general departed from New York Tuesday night and stopped over in London, Geneva, Tehran and Beirut.

Won't Talk

Thant reiterated Thursday he would have no statement on any of his meetings here or with Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri in New Delhi before reporting back to the Security Council.

Before his meeting with Ayub, the Pakistani foreign office officials briefed Thant on Pakistan's views regarding the conflict over Kashmir and a possible cease-fire. They touched on the entire problem of disputed areas in Kashmir which brought on the border fighting.

The Security Council unanimously adopted a resolution calling on both Pakistan and India to stop the hostilities and withdraw to the 400-mile cease-fire line drawn up by the U.N. in 1949 after an earlier border war.

Thant has said only that he would make "certain suggestions" to Pakistani and Indian leaders.

No Sign Of Success

There was no indication the secretary general would be successful in bringing about a solution to the crisis.

Pakistani demonstrators at the Karachi Airport waved red banners at Thant which read "no cease-fire" and "U.N. fiddles while Kashmir burns."

Ayub declared before Thant's arrival that Pakistan considers the price of a cease-fire to be national balloting in Kashmir to determine whether its people want to be part of India or Pakistan. India has refused to engage in such a vote ever since partition 17 years ago.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic (AP)—Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin was taken by armed escorts to a waiting U.S. military plane Thursday night and flown out of the Dominican Republic.

President Hector Garcia-Godoy then took to radio and television to announce he had appointed the militant anti-communist leader consul-general in Miami, Fla.

The new job appeared to be in line with the president's offer Wednesday to give Wessin y Wessin leader of the coup that ousted President Juan D. Bosch in 1963, any job he wanted abroad if he would get out of the country.

The rebels had demanded his ouster as commanded of the armed forces training center as part of their price for a peace settlement. Rebel leaders said they could not undertake disarmament on their side until he left.

Many Records Tumble During '65 Fair

Attendance At 405,000 A New High

By JOHN DE CAMP
Star Staff Writer

It's all over now—but not before just about every major record previous state fairs set was broken.

The 20,000 who came to the Nebraska State Fair Thursday pushed the total attendance to a new record of 405,000. The midway, authorities said, took in more than any previous year. In fact, they had reached the previous total take two nights before the fair ended.

Of course, the most tragic event of the fair, also a record was the crash of the Sky Ride Sunday in which two were killed and more than 50 injured. Investigation continued to determine the cause, but official reports released Thursday afternoon indicated the cause was still unknown.

At the annual 4-H beef sale held Thursday afternoon, William Gold II of Lincoln paid $2.50 per pound for grand champion steak to set a new record high in that area of the fair.

Permanent Engineer

But probably the most significant thing the Fair Board did Thursday was to decide to hire a permanent safety engineer to inspect all facilities, permanent and temporary on the fairgrounds. The action was taken in the wake of Sunday's tragedy.

In the past, safety engineers have been hired on a contract basis to inspect equipment and facilities. The board said the permanent engineer would be in charge of inspections of facilities in connection with the fair's horse race meet and all other activities held on the fairgrounds in addition to the fair itself.

Track Provision

In other action, the State Board of Agriculture instructed the management to secure plans to construct a ½ mile clay track for auto racing. The track would be built inside the present ⅝ mile oval used for horse racing. The purpose of this action is to improve and help maintain the surface of the thoroughbred running track and to insure better racing for both thoroughbred racing and auto racing.

The board also instructed the management to secure bids for the renovation of the beef barn. One of the things prompting this was the fact that the National Hereford Register of Merit Show will be held at the Nebraska State Fair in 1966.

Crosby Will Oppose Move Of Pope Trial

Duane E. Pope's chief defense counsel said Thursday he will oppose a government motion asking that the young Kansan's trial be held in North Platte, Neb., rather than in Lincoln.

Robert B. Crosby declined to list reasons for opposing the motion which was filed in federal district court here by U.S. Atty. Gen. Theodore Richling.

Pope, 22, of Roxbury, Kan., faces federal charges he committed the June 4th bank robbery in Big Springs, Neb., in which three bank workers were killed and another was wounded.

Pope is being held in the Nebraska Penitentiary, and court proceedings in the case have been held in the district court in Lincoln.

In the government motion, Richling noted a federal statute which provides that a trial for a capital offense shall be held in the county where the offense was committed when not inconvenient.

The motion noted that Big Springs is in Deuel County, which has no federal courthouse, but is only 72 miles from North Platte, which does have a federal courthouse. The motion said Big Springs is 304 miles from Lincoln.

The motion asserted that most of the witnesses live in the North Platte and Big Springs areas, and an essential government witness, Franklin Kjeldgaard, the only member of the bank staff to survive the holdup, is paralyzed to the extent he cannot be moved except by ambulance and wheelchair. Kjeldgaard is hospitalized in Denver, Colo.

Oxford Kids Swim Despite Chill In Air

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Oxford — Come September and swimming pools are all but passe over most of the state. Not so here.

Not with a glistening new $50,000 pool to glow over. Not with several summers slipping by since an old swim spot was abandoned. Certainly not with Labor Day and this town's traditional Turkey Days coming on the same week end.

"We had hoped to open in early August but just couldn't make it," explained Mrs. Warren Woodruff, pool manager who looks quite at home in a swim suit. "Classes were dismissed early for Turkey Days anyway, so we threw the pool open with free admission."

Wet paint and uncompleted bath houses notwithstanding, several hundred took advantage of the grand opening. A bright sun for much of the week end helped offset the out-of-season start.

Approved last fall by "a great big margin," the bond issue election had been initiated by the local Jaycees. Undoubtedly helping was the "miss - the - water-when-the-well - runs - dry" attitude toward a cracked and crumbling old pool.

Mayor George Mitchell made the first if not the biggest splash for the official opening. He entered the pool the same way as most of the youngsters — via slippery slide.

District Legion Auxiliary Meet Slated Saturday

A joint rehabilitation and child welfare school will be held with the American Legion, following the memorial service for all deceased members of the past year.

Distinguished guests and speakers will include Mrs. Lester P. Henkens, Chadron, department president; Mrs. Marvin Harrison, Lincoln, department secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Josephine See, Ainsworth, department child welfare chairman; Mrs. Allen Becker, Plymouth, Americanism chairman and Mrs. Dennis Malone, Lincoln, Girls State secretary.

Rep. Clair Callan, R-Neb., will be the guest speaker at the joint banquet which follows the parade.

Social Security Bill Changes Up Work

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Increased workloads resulting from numerous changes and added benefits of the Social Security law has necessitated longer working hours and larger staffs at the Lincoln Social Security administration office, according to manager A. F. Silver

The office, in addition to its daily 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. hours, is now open Thursday nights until 8:30 p.m.

Five clerk-typists have been added to the staff, now numbering 37, "to relieve the professional people" from routine secretarial duties, "giving them more free time for interviews," Silver said.

Many Inquiries

The large number of inquiries and applicants seeking help at the Lincoln office are due to the "liberalized Social Security law," Silver said, noting that the medicare provisions have stirred the most interest.

The Social Security office must process applications for persons 65 and over, if they want to be included in the hospital program and-or health insurance plan "if those elderly persons have never worked under Social Security or have never applied for benefits," Silver explained.

He pointed out that persons 65 and over now receiving Social Security payments or railroad retirement benefits are being contacted through the national center and need not apply at the Lincoln office. Persons receiving public assistance payments will be contacted through the welfare departments

Student Benefits

Another extension of the law provides that students between the ages of 18 and 22, formally receiving child insurance benefits which were terminated. Can re-apply at the Social Security office and start receiving benefits until the students reach 22 as long as they attend school full time.

In addition, the students can receive payments retroactive to the first of the year, according to the manager.

Silver estimated that some 260 students have already made re-application for the child insurance benefits, and that nearly 800 more are eligible.

The Lincoln staff also is interviewing and writing applications for Social Security funds for widows of insured deceased husbands who can now apply for reduced benefits at the age of 60, instead of waiting until 62.

Another influx of applications, Silver said, is expected from "persons who will be 72 years old before 1969 and who were previously told they were not eligible for benefits because they didn't work long enough under Social Security."

The new law has "liberalized" the amount of time required of a person working under the law "to as little as three quarters in some cases." The former requirement had been six quarters of three months' work, Silver said.

Omaha Woman Beats Mother To Death In Bed

Omaha (AP)—Sadie M· Kruse, 68-year-old Omahan, died Thursday night of injuries police said were inflicted by her 39 year old daughter, Emma Kruse, at the Kruse home at 829 Park Avenue in Omaha.

Mrs. Betty Jane Evans, who lives at the Kruse home, said Emma rushed into the house during the afternoon with a large stick

Mrs.Evans said she tried to stop the woman but was knocked down. Then she shouted to Christine Pagiaro, a visitor, and Christine ran to a next door barber shop to get barber Tom Cammella.

Cammella told police he pulled Emma Kruse away from Sadie Kruse who was being beaten while in bed.

$2 Million Meat Plant Plans Told

. . . For Schuyler

Plans for a $2 million meat packing plant at Schuyler were jointly announced Thursday by Gov. Frank Morrison and Thomas C. Mehesan, president of the Spencer Packing Company of Spencer, Iowa.

Gov. Morrison said the new plant "is an important step in the economic development of the state" and commended Schuyler leadership for agriculture-oriented industrial growth

Site West Of Schuyler

Mehesan said construction of the 75,000-square-foot plant on a 113-acre site a mile west of Schuyler would begin "in the next 30 days" and is expected to become operational "by late summer next year."

He said the plant will employ 200 to 250 people at an estimated annual payroll of $2.5 million. Employes will be drawn from the Schuyler area with the exception of supervisory personnel.

Mehesan said plant will slaughter 6,000 to 6,500 cattle per week and do a business volume of $75 to $100 million annually.

Schuyler, a community of some 3,000, was selected for the plant from among 20 possible sites considered by the company in Nebraska and Iowa.

Mehesan said the "water resources of the Platte Valley and its future growth" were major selection factors. He said Nebraska's tax situation was not a major consideration as "a company must be willing to pay for the services it wants."

Construction of the plant will be financed with 20-year revenue bonds issued under the state's Industrial Development Act, but the amount of the issue hasn't yet been determined, according to a company official.

Social Security Bill Changes Up Work

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON

Increased workloads resulting from numerous changes and added benefits of the Social Security law has necessitated longer working hours and larger staffs at the Lincoln Social Security administration office, according to manager A. F. Silver.

Five clerk-typists have been added to the staff, now numbering 37, "to relieve the professional people" from routine secretarial duties, "giving them more free time for interviews," Silver said.

$2 Million Meat Plant Plans Told

. . . For Schuyler

Plans for a $2 million meat packing plant at Schuyler were jointly announced Thursday by Gov. Frank Morrison and Thomas C. Mehesan, president of the Spencer Packing Company of Spencer, Iowa.

Gov. Morrison said the new plant "is an important step in the economic development of the state" and commended Schuyler leadership for agriculture-oriented industrial growth.

Site West Of Schuyler

Mehesan said construction of the 75,000-square-foot plant on a 113-acre site a mile west of Schuyler would begin "in the next 30 days" and is expected to become operational "by late summer next year."

He said the plant will employ 200 to 250 people at an estimated annual payroll of $2.5 million. Employes will be drawn from the Schuyler area with the exception of supervisory personnel.

Mehesan said plant will slaughter 6,000 to 6,500 cattle per week and do a business volume of $75 to $100 million annually.

Schuyler, a community of some 3,000, was selected for the plant from among 20 possible sites considered by the company in Nebraska and Iowa.

Mehesan said the "water resources of the Platte Valley and its future growth" were major selection factors. He said Nebraska's tax situation was not a major consideration as "a company must be willing to pay for the services it wants."

Construction of the plant will be financed with 20-year revenue bonds issued under the state's Industrial Development Act, but the amount of the issue hasn't yet been determined, according to a company official.

Dirksen Wins A Round

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A few weeks ago, many people in this area were highly critical of Rep. Clair Callan of Nebraska's First District for his consideration of a favorable vote on the repeal of Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley law. Representative Callan was not necessarily sympathetic to the repeal but eastern members of Congress were promising defeat of the administration farm bill unless farm belt members supported the Taft-Hartley repeal.

Sauce For One And Both

Critics of Callan called it vote-trading and wanted no part of it. Just this week, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the capable Senate minority leader, succeeded in getting his apportionment amendment out of committee. He did it by withholding his support of the administration's amended immigration bill until the votes were promised in committee for his own measure. The situation was the same kind of vote-trading in which Callan was engaged but no criticism of Senator Dirksen has been forthcoming. If Callan was wrong in considering his trade, Dirksen was wrong in achieving his.

But the fact is that neither of them was wrong in view of the circumstances. No form of vote-trading is exactly good but just how evil it might be is a subject to some question. The practice might also be looked at in some forms as compromise and, thus, possessed of some advantages. Clearly, it is one means by which a minority can make itself heard above the majority and that, sometimes, is good.

The other consideration is that, like it or not, some forms of vote-trading are practiced in every legislative branch of government. While principles are not supposed to be sacrificed, the practical side of politics can be ignored at times only at great cost to those who want to do so. Nebraska has already frequently paid this price in the past.

Republican efforts in the House were defeated when directed toward limitations in the administration's foreign aid bill. The GOP sought to prohibit aid to India and Pakistan so long as these two nations were fighting each other. The crux of the difficulty with the GOP proposal is whether such elements of the aid program are legislative or administrative prerogative. The wisdom of the Republican effort has already been demonstrated with U.S. curtailment of all military aid to India and Pakistan. It is highly possible that other forms of economic assistance will be eliminated if the fighting between these two nations continues. India has never received much military aid from the U.S. and was given what she was only after being attacked by Red China.

The U.S. would have been much wiser to use the same approach toward Pakistan. Our lack of military aid to India has not prevented her from excessive retaliation against Pakistan for relatively minor border violations but at least we have not substantially improved the war-making capacity of that nation. It is hoped that Republicans stick to their guns in this matter and find the appropriate means by which military aid from the U.S. can be administered on a much more selective basis than has been the case in the past. Our arming of new and underdeveloped nations of the world is a poor practice that nets us little, if anything, and subjects the world to serious risks.

Affairs at another national level have been criticized by the State Board of Education and State Education Commissioner Floyd A. Miller. They have taken strong exception to a proposed national testing program for students. They view it as the possible means to federal control over schools.

Much of what the board and Dr. Miller say is true if it is applicable. A national testing program could have some benefit in telling states how they stack up with the competition and in giving residents of a school district some idea from outside sources as to what kind of a school system they have.

More Dangers Than Good

However, a national testing program on which federal aid to schools would be based would be clearly out of line and dangerous in many respects. It is strongly suspected by many authorities that our educational system already relies too heavily on testing and there are some schools where testing has been virtually eliminated, particularly at the college level. If federal aid were allocated on the basis of testing, some educational systems would have to be unfairly penalized. Would the aid go to the areas that tested low on the basis of need or to areas that tested high on the basis of good performance?

In either event, a further inequity would be established and matters of important local concern would be buried in a heap of bureaucratic paper work. On balance, it would seem that the potential dangers from such testing are greater than the benefits that might be derived therefrom. Educational standards are more fittingly and appropriately applied at the state and local levels of government.

Education And The Adults

The elementary and high schools have already accepted their loads of children and soon the colleges and universities will open their doors for the new year. By that time a large segment of our people will be in class rooms.

Now it is usual at this juncture to admonish the young people, to talk down drop-outs and to look austerely at anyone under 20 years of age.

Let us not be misled. For almost all of these young people this is a serious time and they will do their best with the tasks. If they do not learn the right things it is the fault of the grown-up people who provide the institutions of learning. The children do not elect their school boards or their teachers nor have any thing to do with shaping the curriculum. The adult public reserves those rights for itself.

This is a time for adult self-examination rather than of judgment of the younger generation. Have we properly defined education or have we defined it at all? What is the difference between a highly trained person and a properly educated one. Have we faced the fact that except for a minority most of our engineers, doctors, dentists and business administration products, excellent as they may be in their highly specialized fields, have little more knowledge of citizenship and the humanities than they gleaned from high school courses?

We can teach unrealities as diligently as we can teach fact and we can be confused by elaborate buildings, and techniques, large budgets and the like. The prime criterion of education is how well are these young people prepared for life as it really is.

As we say, this is not the time to bring our young folks to judgment, but ourselves who have prepared the education dish for them.

Something Doesn't Fit

City-County Planning Commission recommendation of a resolution outlawing private development of land in any 100-year flood plain area contains some inherent conflicts. The purpose of the action is to secure legislation whereby land cannot be developed and sold in dry periods to unsuspecting customers who find themselves flooded out in rainy seasons.

This is a legitimate objective but is it applicable in 100-year flood plain areas? The 100-year flood is the one against which flood prevention work is done. This work is justified on the basis that it protects the land within the flood area. But if the protected land is still of no value, and cannot be developed, what is the point of doing the work?

It would seem that either you let the land flood and declare it useless or undertake flood protection work and turn the land into a productive use. Additionally, land in a 100-year flood plain ought to have some valuable private use. Even residential use would not seem to be outlawed.

A 100-year flood area is one where it has been determined that a flood will occur once in every 100 years. It seems rather drastic to eliminate such land from use for all time. Of course, you never know about a 100-year flood. You never know when it will come and that is a risk that will always hang over the land.

But it is an incompatible situation to provide flood protection for the 100-year flood and then deny use of the land so protected. A better approach might be the requirement for a stipulation in the deed to all such land that it lies within a 100-year flood plain area.

Peace And Weapons Don't Match

The war between India and Pakistan is almost completely uncalled for, and ruinous to both countries' dreams of peaceful modernization. It is also an indictment of the duplicity practiced by the United States under the guise of foreign aid.

In the popular conception, our foreign aid program is one that feeds, educates, and improves the peaceable environment of backward, poverty-ridden countries on the premise that doing good will win the gratitude of the benefitted people who will therefore chose our way of life over other ways, and work for world peace.

In fact more than half our foreign aid goes in the form of war making material and functions not as an inducement to peace, but rather to war.

We have given more than $2 billion in arms to Pakistan and less than that to India. That has given each a capability to make war and now they are at it. And these are people, who during the long time they enjoyed no national sovereignty, but were under the direction of the British empire, made no war on each other, but lived together in relative peace. Now Pakistan has swung from our side to the Red Chinese and is using American made weapons to fight India which also has American weapons.

It is not in the cause of peace that this country ladles out war making weapons to irresponsible nations and it is also a denial of our declared principles.

We can now expect of this latest war to exhaust the treasuries both of India and Pakistan to the detriment of their declared aims toward peace and national improvement. And we may have started a conflagration that will spread across the world and deeply involve us.

What nonsense!

Sen. Ellender May Be Rights Victim

WASHINGTON — At the rate Negro registration is going in the South, the first major political casualty is likely to be gnarled, despotic Allen Ellender, the senior senator from Louisiana.

Ellender came to Washington almost thirty years ago as the successor to the famed Louisiana "Kingfish" Huey Long, whose son Russell is now the junior senator from that state. At that time, Ellender was so down to earth that he won the nickname "Potatoes" and so full of beans that this column in 1937 awarded him the brass ring.

In his long career since, Ellender has chalked up some constructive landmarks for himself and the nation. He was an inveterate foe of McCarthyism at a time when the late senator from Wisconsin was in his heyday. He was co-author of the first public housing bill, along with Bob Wagner of New York and Bob Taft of Ohio. He introduced the first aid-to education bill and early sponsored the school lunch program.

As early as 1945, Ellender became the chief opponent to Sen. Claude Pepper's minimum-wage bill to fix the minimum at 65 cents an hour —as compared with the proposed $1.75 an hour now.

As early as 1948, Ellender first opposed civil rights in a debate with Senators, Irving Ives of New York and Homer Ferguson of Michigan, both Republicans. Earlier, in 1942, a Negro Civil Defense marshal warned the senator from Louisiana to take refuge during an air drill and he thereupon found himself in a Negro apartment house.

Ellender has been battling against Negroes ever since. He has voted against every civil rights bill plus the Negro voting rights bill, and filibustered against several of them. He opposed the independence of African Negro republics, and home rule for the District of Columbia. He has never wavered. And the Negroes of Louisiana in turn are not wavering in their feeling toward Ellender. The will vote against him about 99 per cent.

There are 500,000 Negroes in Louisiana, with 160,000 registered as of today. At the rate registration is now progressing around 300,000 Negroes should be registered in time to vote when Ellender comes up for reelection next year.

Negroes are not the only opponents Ellender has. He has rolled up other opposition during his long three decades in the U.S. Senate. The man most likely to run against him in Camille Gravel, former Democratic National Committeeman from Louisiana who was kicked off the committee because he favored a civil rights plank in the Democratic platform.

Lady Bird Wars On Public Ugliness

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has complained that whenever he tries to catnap, Mrs. Johnson and Laurence Rockefeller are talking about daffodils in the next room.

This week Mrs. Johnson took her beautification crusade far from the White House to one of the most perfect exemplars of the values she is trying to perserve, the Grand Teton National Park. On her way west, a western reporter asked her plainly how much more there was to this than a good political gimmick.

Her dark eyes flashed, but her voice was soft as she replied that she felt deeply what she was doing and that time would demonstrate her perseverance and her commitment.

Mrs. Johnson spoke here to a joint meeting of the National Council of State Garden Clubs and the American Forestry Association. In measured words she raised a standard to which the wise and honest and those who proudly call themselves practical men can repair.

Her theme: Beauty cannot be the occasional privilege of nice people.

"I am quite sure that ugliness—the grey, dreary, unchanging world of crowded, deprived neighborhoods —has contributed to riots, to mental ill health, to crime," she said.

Mrs. Johnson is not an orator, but she has disciplined her Texas twang and occasional too-flowery phrasing into a soft flow of direct language which is very persuasive. She never "milks" her audiences of applause by tone, pause or gesture in selected places.

She was, of course, speaking to the converted here, and they listened quietly and attentively. Perhaps, like the skeptical reporter, they were judging her commitment, for she is rather new to the field in which they have failed so long. A smiling ovation when she had concluded suggested their conversion.

It was a long trip to make for an audience of 500 people, but they are hardened battlers against public indifference and the despoilers. They can identify the enemy and know his tricks.

Equally important, they are the types who lead movements for civic betterment, for charity, for recognition of the arts. Without such people, no politician could get off the ground no matter how convinced he would be that it is better to spend money to prevent social ills than to spend it on an unceasing flow of their victims.

Congress en masse tends to be philistine when considerations of aesthetics arise. Members may live in beautiful homes, eat delicious food and patronize the arts, but they name an aging contractor as "architect" of Congress and allow him to deface Capitol Hill with monstrous and costly buildings and to alter at random the Capitol itself. They would divorce their wives for handing them the dull food they eat uncomplainingly while at work.

Right now Mrs. Johnson and her foremost ally, her husband, are tangling with another manifestation of this attitude. Congress has carved up the highway beautification bill in the apparent conviction that billboards are an art form and scenic roads a luxury.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

And—Nuts To The Ladies!

By MONA B. PARKER

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peck have the oddest and smallest garden in Kearney. The entire garden is one hardy volunteer tomato plant that sprouted from seed, and the plot is a crack in the sidewalk at the bottom of their front steps.

It sprouted in late June, now has 60 small tomatoes on its sprawling branches and, barring early frost, may produce a one-bushel harvest.

The only trouble is that the rugged volunteer requires careful stepping over for those entering or leaving the house.

This is corn-on-the-cob-eating season and that delicacy comes as close, in Harold Spence's opinion, to food for the gods as anything he can think of. However, delicious as it is, it is not without hazards. Maybe not so much so during a good year, but consider this story that came out of the hard years of the 30's . . . The Holdrege Citizen editor says a transient came in the shop for a handout way back then, and it was noticed that both his thumbs were missing. The poor thumbless chap blamed his plight completely on the drought. What little corn was raised in those dust-bowl days had very short ears. Invited in by one generous farmer to partake of corn on the cob, he accepted, and the hungry fellow was eating so fast that he skidded on the short ear and bit off his right thumb at the first joint. At the end of the season, he came back and tried to eat corn again, and bit off his left thumb. The sad part, concluded the tall-tale-telling Mr. Spence, was that it left him so completely unequipped for his role of knight of the open road.

All they need do to produce rain in Dakota County is decide on a day for the county fair parade. At least that was the conclusion after the parade was postponed because of rain for the second year in a row. Fair officials were inclined to be philosophical, contending that, with a five-day fair, "you have to expect one rain-out."

☆ ☆ ☆

Stanton, also had rain on the opening day of its fair. Marlin Waechter of the Register was impressed with personal reactions to the drippy weather when 4-H judging was taking place. "Kids, animals, judges and spectators alike were soaked clean through, but we heard not one complaint."

Later, when the rains had passed, he managed to get 4-H'ers together for pictures.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Garden County News had this to say on 4-H activity: "It's good training to compete with one another. It's gratifying to see a winner—but best of all to see a graceful loser."

☆ ☆ ☆

But, as with so many other things ideal in nature, there sounded a sour note. . .

The youngsters of Duane Kunzman, editor of the Laurel Advocate, are participating in 4-H this year, two with beef projects and one with a market litter of hogs. But a friend of his explained in some detail why he had decided against his own children taking part. He was of the opinion that it had declined into a case of competition between the fathers rather than the children, and Mr. Kunzman had to agree reluctantly that this was true, in many cases . . .

"We've seen dads primp calves themselves preceding the showing at the fair, while the child stands in wonderment and then grabs the lead to show it. It's the first time he really knows what color his calf is . . .

"About that time the dad looks around and sees the judge and that's when the pressure really starts. More times than not, the father will say who he is and remind the judge that he has a good reputation as a cattle raiser and that it would be a shame if 'the boy's calf didn't come out near the top.' "

If one is to judge from a News story, Comstock has a dedicated and confirmed bachelor in its midst. Emmett Johnson has a small garden and lawn and a house that, by the News' description, "is exceptionally neat and clean for a bachelor's hideout." He likes to try new horticultural experiments and raised a few peanuts this year, just to show that it can be done.

He has a row of Concord grape vines, too, that are bearing heavily this year. It was his thought to make some home-made wine until he discovered an item that said that in order to make home-made wine, it was necessary to obtain a special permit which would allow making 200 gallons of wine if one were married.

Mr. Johnson's reaction to that: "I am not about to get married, wine or no wine."

And he's not about to peddle any of his peanuts around to any lady fair, either. If he raises too many of them, he's going to feed them to the elephants.

"I love a circus," he stated.

Native Sons

Lincoln, Neb.

The Native Sons and Daughters of Nebraska was organized about half a century ago by Mrs. A. E. Sheldon as an auxiliary of the State Historical Society of which Addison E. Sheldon was manager. It started with about 300 charter members, who paid one dollar as annual dues. Max Meyer was elected the first treasurer and still holds that office. Other officers have been selected from year to year.

The organization was started with no definite objective, rather as a social group to maintain the sentimental, traditional sentiments of Nebraska, stressing folklore instead of the academic, statistical objectives of the Historical Society and its affiliation with the university.

Native birth is a recognized asset in many states. A Texan who is born in the Lone Star state comes into the social or political arena with a strong advantage over any competitor, unless one possibly born in South Carolina. A majority of both branches of the California legislature are natives, with a 50 percent advantage over the many immigrants or tourists in that great commonwealth. Local nativity is a prerequisite in the Carolinas and a recognized asset in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The potential membership of Nebraska natives is more than 400,000, but there are probably fewer than 100 who keep up their dues, with no organized effort to increase the number.

The Historical Society and the Native Sons and Daughters meet in Lincoln September 25 to hold their annual conventions. The historians hold their business session in the forenoon, the natives in the afternoon. They join for luncheon. The Sons and Daughters have their own session that afternoon and may sit in at the annual evening dinner.

Few if any states in the United States have had a more characteristic period of immigration and pioneering than Nebraska, much of which is not written in the pages of authentic history. The forthcoming centennial anniversary of the state affords opportunities for the native descendants of the pioneers who introduced civilization and culture in the prairies to revive and revaluate local incidents and developments. Nebraska did not start in the cities and towns, rather on the 160-acre homesteads with the people who came in covered wagons and raised native sons and daughters in sod houses.

Native sons and daughters of Nebraska are modestly unaware of their potential influence in the sober, serious affairs of their state.

Face-Saver?

Tekamah, Neb.

The Nebraska Farm Bureau which has with their national organization fought diligently and consistently for lower support prices and therefore lower farm prices now would have us believe they are seriously concerned about the economic welfare of the farmer in the few dollars he might be able to save in the event the new state income tax bill becomes law.

Farm Bureau policy from the flexible price support hoax of the Benson era up to the more recent wheat referendum fiasco should have convinced even their most ardent followers that facts, not theory and results, not promises of results, are the necessary ingredients for a more economically stable agriculture.

It is an obvious and provable fact that whenever the support prices on farm-produced commodities were lowered, commodities always returned less net income to the producers.

A farmer bankrupted by depressed farm prices and higher operating costs is not likely to be too concerned about the property taxes he would have paid on the land he no longer owns. Neither is he likely to be greatly concerned with the income taxes, state or national, which he would have paid on the income he should have made but didn't. Such savings as these do not send his children to college.

While there seems to be little doubt that the tax structure of the state is something of a disproportionate mess, there should also be little doubt or question as to how it got that way. That political party with which the Farm Bureau aligns itself is also the party which has, until quite recently at least, totally dominaetd the state.

Perhaps the new state income tax law is just the thing, for the Farm Bureau, both as a face-saver for the "no vote on the wheat referendum and as a prestige builder and selling point.

Our lack of military aid to India has not prevented her from excessive retaliation against Pakistan for relatively minor border violations but at least we have not substantially improved the war-making capacity of that nation. It is hoped that Republicans stick to their guns in this matter and find the appropriate means by which military aid from the U.S. can be administered on a much more selective basis than has been the case in the past. Our arming of new and underdeveloped nations of the world is a poor practice that nets us little, if anything, and subjects the world to serious risks.

Affairs at another national level have been criticized by the State Board of Education and State Education Commissioner Floyd A. Miller. They have taken strong exception to a proposed national testing program for students. They view it as the possible means to federal control over schools.

Much of what the board and Dr. Miller say is true if it is applicable. A national testing program could have some benefit in telling states how they stack up with the competition and in giving residents of a school district some idea from outside sources as to what kind of a school system they have.

More Dangers Than Good

However, a national testing program on which federal aid to schools would be based would be clearly out of line and dangerous in many respects. It is strongly suspected by many authorities that our educational system already relies too heavily on testing and there are some schools where testing has been virtually eliminated, particularly at the college level. If federal aid were allocated on the basis of testing, some educational systems would have to be unfairly penalized. Would the aid go to the areas that tested low on the basis of need or to areas that tested high on the basis of good performance?

In either event, a further inequity would be established and matters of important local concern would be buried in a heap of bureaucratic paper work. On balance, it would seem that the potential dangers from such testing are greater than the benefits that might be derived therefrom. Educational standards are more fittingly and appropriately applied at the state and local levels of government.

Education And The Adults

The elementary and high schools have already accepted their loads of children and soon the colleges and universities will open their doors for the new year. By that time a large segment of our people will be in class rooms.

Now it is usual at this juncture to admonish the young people, to talk down drop-outs and to look austerely at anyone under 20 years of age.

Let us not be misled. For almost all of these young people this is a serious time and they will do their best with the tasks. If they do not learn the right things it is the fault of the grown-up people who provide the institutions of learning. The children do not elect their school boards or their teachers nor have any thing to do with shaping the curriculum. The adult public reserves those rights for itself.

This is a time for adult self-examination rather than of judgment of the younger generation. Have we properly defined education or have we defined it at all? What is the difference between a highly trained person and a properly educated one. Have we faced the fact that except for a minority most of our engineers, doctors, dentists and business administration products, excellent as they may be in their highly specialized fields, have little more knowledge of citizenship and the humanities than they gleaned from high school courses?

We can teach unrealities as diligently as we can teach fact and we can be confused by elaborate buildings, and techniques, large budgets and the like. The prime criterion of education is how well are these young people prepared for life as it really is.

As we say, this is not the time to bring our young folks to judgment, but ourselves who have prepared the education dish for them.

Something Doesn't Fit

City-County Planning Commission recommendation of a resolution outlawing private development of land in any 100-year flood plain area contains some inherent conflicts. The purpose of the action is to secure legislation whereby land cannot be developed and sold in dry periods to unsuspecting customers who find themselves flooded out in rainy seasons.

This is a legitimate objective but is it applicable in 100-year flood plain areas? The 100-year flood is the one against which flood prevention work is done. This work is justified on the basis that it protects the land within the flood area. But if the protected land is still of no value, and cannot be developed, what is the point of doing the work?

It would seem that either you let the land flood and declare it useless or undertake flood protection work and turn the land into a productive use. Additionally, land in a 100-year flood plain ought to have some valuable private use. Even residential use would not seem to be outlawed.

A 100-year flood area is one where it has been determined that a flood will occur once in every 100 years. It seems rather drastic to eliminate such land from use for all time. Of course, you never know about a 100-year flood. You never know when it will come and that is a risk that will always hang over the land.

But it is an incompatible situation to provide flood protection for the 100-year flood and then deny use of the land so protected. A better approach might be the requirement for a stipulation in the deed to all such land that it lies within a 100-year flood plain area.

Peace And Weapons Don't Match

The war between India and Pakistan is almost completely uncalled for, and ruinous to both countries' dreams of peaceful modernization. It is also an indictment of the duplicity practiced by the United States under the guise of foreign aid.

In the popular conception, our foreign aid program is one that feeds, educates, and improves the peaceable environment of backward, poverty-ridden countries on the premise that doing good will win the gratitude of the benefitted people who will therefore chose our way of life over other ways, and work for world peace.

In fact more than half our foreign aid goes in the form of war making material and functions not as an inducement to peace, but rather to war.

We have given more than $2 billion in arms to Pakistan and less than that to India. That has given each a capability to make war and now they are at it. And these are people, who during the long time they enjoyed no national sovereignty, but were under the direction of the British empire, made no war on each other, but lived together in relative peace. Now Pakistan has swung from our side to the Red Chinese and is using American made weapons to fight India which also has American weapons.

It is not in the cause of peace that this country ladles out war making weapons to irresponsible nations and it is also a denial of our declared principles.

We can now expect of this latest war to exhaust the treasuries both of India and Pakistan to the detriment of their declared aims toward peace and national improvement. And we may have started a conflagration that will spread across the world and deeply involve us.

What nonsense!

Sen. Ellender May Be Rights Victim

WASHINGTON — At the rate Negro registration is going in the South, the first major political casualty is likely to be gnarled, despotic Allen Ellender, the senior senator from Louisiana.

Ellender came to Washington almost thirty years ago as the successor to the famed Louisiana "Kingfish" Huey Long, whose son Russell is now the junior senator from that state. At that time, Ellender was so down to earth that he won the nickname "Potatoes" and so full of beans that this column in 1937 awarded him the brass ring.

In his long career since, Ellender has chalked up some constructive landmarks for himself and the nation. He was an inveterate foe of McCarthyism at a time when the late senator from Wisconsin was in his heyday. He was co-author of the first public housing bill, along with Bob Wagner of New York and Bob Taft of Ohio. He introduced the first aid-to education bill and early sponsored the school lunch program.

As early as 1945, Ellender became the chief opponent to Sen. Claude Pepper's minimum-wage bill to fix the minimum at 65 cents an hour —as compared with the proposed $1.75 an hour now.

As early as 1948, Ellender first opposed civil rights in a debate with Senators, Irving Ives of New York and Homer Ferguson of Michigan, both Republicans. Earlier, in 1942, a Negro Civil Defense marshal warned the senator from Louisiana to take refuge during an air drill and he thereupon found himself in a Negro apartment house.

Ellender has been battling against Negroes ever since. He has voted against every civil rights bill plus the Negro voting rights bill, and filibustered against several of them. He opposed the independence of African Negro republics, and home rule for the District of Columbia. He has never wavered. And the Negroes of Louisiana in turn are not wavering in their feeling toward Ellender. The will vote against him about 99 per cent.

There are 500,000 Negroes in Louisiana, with 160,000 registered as of today. At the rate registration is now progressing around 300,000 Negroes should be registered in time to vote when Ellender comes up for reelection next year.

Negroes are not the only opponents Ellender has. He has rolled up other opposition during his long three decades in the U.S. Senate. The man most likely to run against him in Camille Gravel, former Democratic National Committeeman from Louisiana who was kicked off the committee because he favored a civil rights plank in the Democratic platform.

Lady Bird Wars On Public Ugliness

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has complained that whenever he tries to catnap, Mrs. Johnson and Laurence Rockefeller are talking about daffodils in the next room.

This week Mrs. Johnson took her beautification crusade far from the White House to one of the most perfect exemplars of the values she is trying to perserve, the Grand Teton National Park. On her way west, a western reporter asked her plainly how much more there was to this than a good political gimmick.

Her dark eyes flashed, but her voice was soft as she replied that she felt deeply what she was doing and that time would demonstrate her perseverance and her commitment.

Mrs. Johnson spoke here to a joint meeting of the National Council of State Garden Clubs and the American Forestry Association. In measured words she raised a standard to which the wise and honest and those who proudly call themselves practical men can repair.

Her theme: Beauty cannot be the occasional privilege of nice people.

"I am quite sure that ugliness—the grey, dreary, unchanging world of crowded, deprived neighborhoods —has contributed to riots, to mental ill health, to crime," she said.

Mrs. Johnson is not an orator, but she has disciplined her Texas twang and occasional too-flowery phrasing into a soft flow of direct language which is very persuasive. She never "milks" her audiences of applause by tone, pause or gesture in selected places.

She was, of course, speaking to the converted here, and they listened quietly and attentively. Perhaps, like the skeptical reporter, they were judging her commitment, for she is rather new to the field in which they have failed so long. A smiling ovation when she had concluded suggested their conversion.

It was a long trip to make for an audience of 500 people, but they are hardened battlers against public indifference and the despoilers. They can identify the enemy and know his tricks.

Equally important, they are the types who lead movements for civic betterment, for charity, for recognition of the arts. Without such people, no politician could get off the ground no matter how convinced he would be that it is better to spend money to prevent social ills than to spend it on an unceasing flow of their victims.

Congress en masse tends to be philistine when considerations of aesthetics arise. Members may live in beautiful homes, eat delicious food and patronize the arts, but they name an aging contractor as "architect" of Congress and allow him to deface Capitol Hill with monstrous and costly buildings and to alter at random the Capitol itself. They would divorce their wives for handing them the dull food they eat uncomplainingly while at work.

Right now Mrs. Johnson and her foremost ally, her husband, are tangling with another manifestation of this attitude. Congress has carved up the highway beautification bill in the apparent conviction that billboards are an art form and scenic roads a luxury.

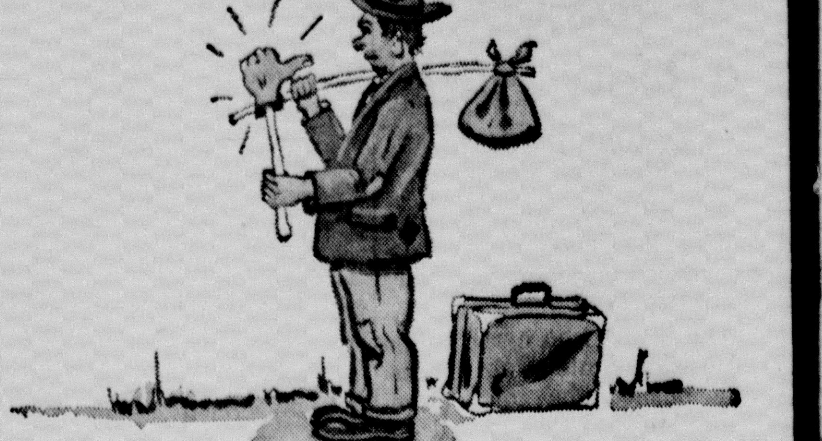
THE NEIGHBORS SAY

And—Nuts To The Ladies!

By MONA B. PARKER



Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peck have the oddest and smallest garden in Kearney. The entire garden is one hardy volunteer tomato plant that sprouted from seed, and the plot is a crack in the sidewalk at the bottom of their front steps.

It sprouted in late June, now has 60 small tomatoes on its sprawling branches and, barring early frost, may produce a one-bushel harvest.

The only trouble is that the rugged volunteer requires careful stepping over for those entering or leaving the house.

All they need do to produce rain in Dakota County is decide on a day for the county fair parade. At least that was the conclusion after the parade was postponed because of rain for the second year in a row. Fair officials were inclined to be philosophical, contending that, with a five-day fair, "you have to expect one rain-out."

☆ ☆ ☆

Stanton, also had rain on the opening day of its fair. Marlin Waechter of the Register was impressed with personal reactions to the drippy weather when 4-H judging was taking place. "Kids, animals, judges and spectators alike were soaked clean through, but we heard not one complaint."

Later, when the rains had passed, he managed to get 4-H'ers together for pictures.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Garden County News had this to say on 4-H activity: "It's good training to compete with one another. It's gratifying to see a winner—but best of all to see a graceful loser."

☆ ☆ ☆

But, as with so many other things ideal in nature, there sounded a sour note. . .

The youngsters of Duane Kunzman, editor of the Laurel Advocate, are participating in 4-H this year, two with beef projects and one with a market litter of hogs. But a friend of his explained in some detail why he had decided against his own children taking part. He was of the opinion that it had declined into a case of competition between the fathers rather than the children, and Mr. Kunzman had to agree reluctantly that this was true, in many cases . . .

"We've seen dads primp calves themselves preceding the showing at the fair, while the child stands in wonderment and then grabs the lead to show it. It's the first time he really knows what color his calf is . . .

"About that time the dad looks around and sees the judge and that's when the pressure really starts. More times than not, the father will say who he is and remind the judge that he has a good reputation as a cattle raiser and that it would be a shame if 'the boy's calf didn't come out near the top.' "

If one is to judge from a News story, Comstock has a dedicated and confirmed bachelor in its midst. Emmett Johnson has a small garden and lawn and a house that, by the News' description, "is exceptionally neat and clean for a bachelor's hideout." He likes to try new horticultural experiments and raised a few peanuts this year, just to show that it can be done.

He has a row of Concord grape vines, too, that are bearing heavily this year. It was his thought to make some home-made wine until he discovered an item that said that in order to make home-made wine, it was necessary to obtain a special permit which would allow making 200 gallons of wine if one were married.

Mr. Johnson's reaction to that: "I am not about to get married, wine or no wine."

And he's not about to peddle any of his peanuts around to any lady fair, either. If he raises too many of them, he's going to feed them to the elephants.

"I love a circus," he stated.

This is corn-on-the-cob-eating season and that delicacy comes as close, in Harold Spence's opinion, to food for the gods as anything he can think of. However, delicious as it is, it is not without hazards. Maybe not so much so during a good year, but consider this story that came out of the hard years of the 30's . . . The Holdrege Citizen editor says a transient came in the shop for a handout way back then, and it was noticed that both his thumbs were missing. The poor thumbless chap blamed his plight completely on the drought. What little corn was raised in those dust-bowl days had very short ears. Invited in by one generous farmer to partake of corn on the cob, he accepted, and the hungry fellow was eating so fast that he skidded on the short ear and bit off his right thumb at the first joint. At the end of the season, he came back and tried to eat corn again, and bit off his left thumb. The sad part, concluded the tall-tale-telling Mr. Spence, was that it left him so completely unequipped for his role of knight of the open road.

Native Sons

Lincoln, Neb.

The Native Sons and Daughters of Nebraska was organized about half a century ago by Mrs. A. E. Sheldon as an auxiliary of the State Historical Society of which Addison E. Sheldon was manager. It started with about 300 charter members, who paid one dollar as annual dues. Max Meyer was elected the first treasurer and still holds that office. Other officers have been selected from year to year.

The organization was started with no definite objective, rather as a social group to maintain the sentimental, traditional sentiments of Nebraska, stressing folklore instead of the academic, statistical objectives of the Historical Society and its affiliation with the university.

Native birth is a recognized asset in many states. A Texan who is born in the Lone Star state comes into the social or political arena with a strong advantage over any competitor, unless one possibly born in South Carolina. A majority of both branches of the California legislature are natives, with a 50 percent advantage over the many immigrants or tourists in that great commonwealth. Local nativity is a prerequisite in the Carolinas and a recognized asset in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The potential membership of Nebraska natives is more than 400,000, but there are probably fewer than 100 who keep up their dues, with no organized effort to increase the number.

The Historical Society and the Native Sons and Daughters meet in Lincoln September 25 to hold their annual conventions. The historians hold their business session in the forenoon, the natives in the afternoon. They join for luncheon. The Sons and Daughters have their own session that afternoon and may sit in at the annual evening dinner.

Few if any states in the United States have had a more characteristic period of immigration and pioneering than Nebraska, much of which is not written in the pages of authentic history. The forthcoming centennial anniversary of the state affords opportunities for the native descendants of the pioneers who introduced civilization and culture in the prairies to revive and revaluate local incidents and developments. Nebraska did not start in the cities and towns, rather on the 160-acre homesteads with the people who came in covered wagons and raised native sons and daughters in sod houses.

Native sons and daughters of Nebraska are modestly unaware of their potential influence in the sober, serious affairs of their state.

Face-Saver?

Tekamah, Neb.

The Nebraska Farm Bureau which has with their national organization fought diligently and consistently for lower support prices and therefore lower farm prices now would have us believe they are seriously concerned about the economic welfare of the farmer in the few dollars he might be able to save in the event the new state income tax bill becomes law.

Farm Bureau policy from the flexible price support hoax of the Benson era up to the more recent wheat referendum fiasco should have convinced even their most ardent followers that facts, not theory and results, not promises of results, are the necessary ingredients for a more economically stable agriculture.

It is an obvious and provable fact that whenever the support prices on farm-produced commodities were lowered, commodities always returned less net income to the producers.

A farmer bankrupted by depressed farm prices and higher operating costs is not likely to be too concerned about the property taxes he would have paid on the land he no longer owns. Neither is he likely to be greatly concerned with the income taxes, state or national, which he would have paid on the income he should have made but didn't. Such savings as these do not send his children to college.

While there seems to be little doubt that the tax structure of the state is something of a disproportionate mess, there should also be little doubt or question as to how it got that way. That political party with which the Farm Bureau aligns itself is also the party which has, until quite recently at least, totally dominaetd the state.

Perhaps the new state income tax law is just the thing, for the Farm Bureau, both as a face-saver for the "no vote on the wheat referendum and as a prestige builder and selling point.

If a girl's nearly grown, she'll love our JJ Seniors

If she's nearly grown, her fashion ideas are pretty mature, too. These are the shoes that are up-to-the-minute in style, right-on-the-button in fit. Size designations are 4-10, but tiny differences in toe, instep and heel give vital growing room. Shown, 4½-9.

Sisters set sail in the VIP navy

Sizes 7 to 14 .... 9.00

Sizes 3 to 6x 8.00

Big and little sisters sail fashionably through fall with the important and practical two-piece knit suit. Take a navy top and match it with a red pleated skirt — or take a red top and match it with a navy pleated skirt. Either combination adds up to the VIP American school girl look! White bands, white peggy collar and brass buttons are the just-right finishing touches. Come in, write or phone 477-1211 and just charge it!

6-12, reg. and slim

Prep sizes 26 to 32 .... 6.00

After leading the way in no-iron collections, we now bring you the newest of the new! Here's a corduroy jean that's Koratron® processed and permanently pressed (and priced much lower than you'd expect). You'll never iron these corduroys — Farah and Gold's guarantee it. No guesswork in size either because there's absolutely no shrinkage in the 50% polyester-50% cotton blend. VIP'S applaud the rugged western styling with belt loop and no cuff. Sand, olive, antelope.

We've got handsewn casuals, dress-up shoes and every style in between. Style shown, 3½-9, according to size, 10.00-11.00. Same styles in boys' and girls' sizes 12½ to 4.

Education Test Plan Draws Fire

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Thursday his opposition to establishment of a national testing program in elementary or secondary education.

"Local responsibility for implementing education has been the cornerstone of the American system," he said.

"I'm not opposed to federal aid to education, but I am opposed to federal encroachment upon local responsibility. A national testing program has very serious inherent dangers in it."

Morrison said a national testing program "would tend to induce uniformity or conformity in education that is not in the nation's best interests."

"There's too much tendency to become slaves to conformity. Our great strength is in diversity and this should be encouraged."

Both the State Education Department and the State Board of Education have gone on record in "vigorous opposition" to establishment of any national testing program in federal aid to education.

Capitol Repairs Must Be OK'd By Commission

The State Justice Department informed State Building Superintendent Robert Newell Thursday that he cannot make any repairs or improvements in the Capitol building, regardless of the cost, without the approval of the State Building Commission.

The department noted that the 1965 Legislature passed a bill, LB413, which eliminated the provision that the commission supervise only the repairs and improvements costing more than $10,000.

The department opinion was written by Assistant Atty. Gen. Bernard Packett and approved by Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer.

These are winey days. In the warm, wine valleys of California they are getting ready to pull the grapes from the vines and jump on them.

We've been bottling our own wine lately. Purely economy. It's a lot cheaper. When you live in a wine country, you soon get accustomed to wine with meals.

Italians get up in the morning and have a little wine with breakfast. I haven't got used to that. But I do a little thing with fried eggs and wine vinegar that is something.

The Confrerie des Chevaliers du Tastevins is becoming a big thing in the U.S.

This is a French wine lovers society—it translates directly as The Brotherhood of Wine-tasting Knights. It was started in the year 1200. The membership has included many famous men of the world.

A number of chapters have been started in America. And you can rise from plain, ordinary Chevalier to all sorts of higher titles.

I am a member—a plain, ordinary Chevalier. But I may carry a Marshal's baton in my knapsack. (The baton opens and reveals a corkscrew.)

We heat the screw-top bottles to 220 degrees to sterilize them. Then we pour jug wine into them.

I don't know what will happen to me when the Brotherhood hears about this. I might be reduced to demi-Chevalier.

I don't think you are supposed to drink jugged wine—not out of screw-top bottles anyway.

The way the waiter serves it to us Knights is like this: He puts the bottle against the wall—so he won't shake up the sediment. He pulls the cork slowly, slowly. He sniffs the cork. He lets us sniff the cork.

He leaves the bottle open—so it can breathe.

He pours a little in the glass. We take it in our mouth and chew it.

This is the preliminary. The waiter watches anxiously. We put down the glass and say:

"Not bad, Supplewaist. "It has a fine nose."

You didn't know wine had a nose, did you? Well, it does. And all Knights have a list of "but" sayings about wine that can be tossed off among the tosspots.

"An interesting tartness but lies smooth on the palat."

"Gives great promise of beconing a grand vin. But I'm not going to reserve judgement until next year."

☆ ☆ ☆

There are other Knightly customs and manners. Room temperatures. And why fish prefer to be eaten with white wine. And why you shouldn't drink sneaky pete before dinner. (It numbs the palate, that's why.)

I don't wear my Knightly ribbon while pouring the old red into screw-top bottles. I want the Brotherhood to know that.

We get the gallon jugs from smaller wineries.

It is very good wine. But I can't pull the cork and let guests smell it. I sneak it into a decanter in the kitchen and say:

"I decanted it. This little wine has to breathe quite a bit before serving."

That's a show-stopper.

VIET CONG GROUP BEATEN

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines wiped out a band of 38 Viet Cong Thursday in a fierce battle on the Batangan Peninsula, a Marine spokesman reported

The leathernecks reported 17 of the Viet Cong killed and 21 captured. Marine casualties were termed light.

The spokesman, describing the action as a fierce 30-minute fight, said the clash occurred when a Marine rifle unit made contact with the Communists as Marines and South Vietnamese troops continued their sweep of the peninsula.

Smash Buildup

The offensive was launched Tuesday by 5 000 to 6,000 Marines and Vietnamese troops to smash a reported Viet Cong buildup on the peninsula, 330 miles north of Saigon

Latest reports said 167 Viet Cong have been killed to date, 106 by Marines and the rest by government troops. Fifty-one Viet Cong were reported captured and 168 suspects detained. Marine and Vietnamese casualties were described as light throughout.

The Marines met virtually no resistance during the first two days of their operation, 20 miles south of Chu Lai along the South China Sea The assault was believed drawing to a close.

Closest To Red China

American planes, meanwhile, made their closest bombing penetration to Red China of the Viet Nam war, a U S military spokesman said U S planes also struck targets 30 miles from Hanoi, the second time they have been that close to the North Vietnamese capital, he added.

The spokesman said four F105 Thunderchiefs bombed and damaged a railroad bridge 17 miles south of Red China's border with North Viet Nam in a raid Wednesday and hit bridges 25 and 30 miles south of the Chinese border.

The area, about 140 miles northwest of Hanoi, is an important transportation center leading to the North Vietnamese capital. U.S. pilots bombed within 30 miles of Red China twice last month trying to disrupt the railroad, which runs northwest from Hanoi to the Red Chinese border.

In another air attack, four F105s bombed a military barracks 30 miles west-northwest of Hanoi twice Thursday, the spokesman said, and noted that once before American planes had flown that close to the North Vietnamese capital. In a barracks attack in the same area July 27, an F105 was shot down and the pilot presumed killed.

Bishop Pike Is Absolved Of Heresy

Glacier National Park, Mont. (UPI)—Bishop James A Pike of San Francisco Thursday was absolved of any heresy by his brothers in the Episcopal House of Bishops but given a mild rebuke for his unilateral actions

"The bishop of California is not on trial in this house nor does the present accusation against one of our members have standing among us," declared a statement drafted by a special theology committee appointed to review the charges against Pike.

The heresy accusation against Pike was brought by a group of conservative Arizona clergy. They contended Pike denied the doctrines of the Trinity, Virgin Birth and Incarnation.

Pike, cleared for the third time since 1961 of heresy accusations, replied in his own statement:

"I am deeply moved by the concern of my brothers in this house . . . I have never had any desire to damage this brotherhood which is precious to me. All of us are working in difficult times in painful situations and if my witness has made your task more complicated, I am truly sorry."

The bishops in convention at the Glacier Park Lodge gave a ringing endorsement for freedom of theological inquiry but warned it must be done within the authority of Christ's ministry and not as an individual. Pike accepted this.

The new committee report said:

"An individual may well claim freedom to think aloud, to discuss, to explore. But when he does, whatever his station, he does so as one member of Christy's body. Only the whole body, speaking maturely and corporately, can officially define the faith it confesses before its Lord. Individual speculations are just that."

Replied Pike: "No man has authority who is not under it (authority) and I reaffirm my loyalty to the doctrine, discipline and worship of the Episcopal Church."

Modernization

Pike has always maintained there was no basis for heresy charges in his attempts to restate ancient doctrine in terms intelligible to modern men.

As the bishops concluded the convention, Pike was overruled on the question of the role of deaconesses in the church.

Pike said he would abide by the decision and cancel plans to ordain Mrs. Phyllis Edwards of San Francisco and allow her to administer communion.

Pike had placed the question before the bishops after the church's 1964 general convention made a language change that deaconesses instead of being "appointed" to their duties should be "ordered."

American planes, meanwhile, made their closest bombing penetration to Red China of the Viet Nam war, a U.S. military spokesman said. U.S. planes also struck targets 30 miles from Hanoi, the second time they have been that close to the North Vietnamese capital, he added.

The spokesman said four F105 Thunderchiefs bombed and damaged a railroad bridge 17 miles south of Red China's border with North Viet Nam in a raid Wednesday and hit bridges 25 and 30 miles south of the Chinese border.

The area, about 140 miles northwest of Hanoi, is an important transportation center leading to the North Vietnamese capital. U.S. pilots bombed within 30 miles of Red China twice last month trying to disrupt the railroad, which runs northwest from Hanoi to the Red Chinese border.

In another air attack, four F105s bombed a military barracks 30 miles west-northwest of Hanoi twice Thursday, the spokesman said, and noted that once before American planes had flown that close to the North Vietnamese capital. In a barracks attack in the same area July 27, an F105 was shot down and the pilot presumed killed.

Bishop Pike Is Absolved Of Heresy

Glacier National Park, Mont. (UPI)—Bishop James A. Pike of San Francisco Thursday was absolved of any heresy by his brothers in the Episcopal House of Bishops but given a mild rebuke for his unilateral actions.

"The bishop of California is not on trial in this house nor does the present accusation against one of our members have standing among us," declared a statement drafted by a special theology committee appointed to review the charges against Pike.

The heresy accusation against Pike was brought by a group of conservative Arizona clergy. They contended Pike denied the doctrines of the Trinity, Virgin Birth and Incarnation.

Pike, cleared for the third time since 1961 of heresy accusations, replied in his own statement:

"I am deeply moved by the concern of my brothers in this house . . . I have never had any desire to damage this brotherhood which is precious to me. All of us are working in difficult times in painful situations and if my witness has made your task more complicated, I am truly sorry."

The bishops in convention at the Glacier Park Lodge gave a ringing endorsement for freedom of theological inquiry but warned it must be done within the authority of Christ's ministry and not as an individual. Pike accepted this.

The new committee report said:

"An individual may well claim freedom to think aloud, to discuss, to explore. But when he does, whatever his station, he does so as one member of Christy's body. Only the whole body, speaking maturely and corporately, can officially define the faith it confesses before its Lord. Individual speculations are just that."

Replied Pike: "No man has authority who is not under it (authority) and I reaffirm my loyalty to the doctrine, discipline and worship of the Episcopal Church."

Modernization

Pike has always maintained there was no basis for heresy charges in his attempts to restate ancient doctrine in terms intelligible to modern men.

As the bishops concluded the convention, Pike was overruled on the question of the role of deaconesses in the church.

Pike said he would abide by the decision and cancel plans to ordain Mrs. Phyllis Edwards of San Francisco and allow her to administer communion.

Pike had placed the question before the bishops after the church's 1964 general convention made a language change that deaconesses instead of being "appointed" to their duties should be "ordered."

Swede: Tory Minister Talked Of Seeking Peace With Hitler

. . . BEHIND WINSTON CHURCHILL'S BACK

London (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government Thursday began investigating a report that a wartime Conservative minister talked of making peace with Hitler behind Sir Winston Churchill's back.

The strange affair, resurrected by former Swedish diplomat Bjoern Prytz, may cause a major political row.

At the center is Richard Austen (no Lord) Butler, now chancellor of Trinity College, Cambridge.

Almost Premier

Butler, 62, narrowly missed succeeding Sir Anthony Eden (now Lord Avon) in 1957 and Harold Macmillan in 1963, as prime minister. Some Conservative Party authorities say it was because Churchill, Eden, Macmillan and their confidants knew of the incident related by Prytz that Butler never reached the summit of British public life.

As Prytz told the story in a Stockholm broadcast, Butler was among some British ministers who were thinking and talking of making peace with Hitler after the fall of France on June 17, 1940.

"Diehards like Churchill," Prytz quoted Butler as telling him that day "must not be allowed to stand in the way of negotiations."

Envoy To London

The Swede, who was his country's envoy in London at the time, continued:

"It was clear that first and foremost among the diehards was, according to Mr. Butler, Churchill who must therefore disappear from his post (as prime minister.)"

Butler declined to comment on the remarks attributed to him by Prytz.

"It is all so long ago," he said. "I have not seen the report of this broadcast and I should want to see it and consider it."

Prytz claimed he saw Butler—then deputy to Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax—on June 17 and the British minister talked of making peace with Nazi Germany.

Common Sense

He related that at one point the talk was interrupted when Butler was called to see Halifax and then returned with his chief's authority to say: "Common sense and not bravado would dictate Britain's foreign policy."

Prytz said it was clear Butler meant that Churchill would not set the tone of British policy.

Halifax was said to have added that such an attitude "must not be interpreted as a will to accept peace at any price."

Churchill himself used the occasion of the French surrender to broadcast one of his stirring calls on the British people to fight until victory.

The foreign office declined to comment on Prytz's version.

Other officials reported, however, the whole affair is being investigated among other reasons because parliamentary questions are expected.

Jordon Reports Beating Back Israeli Attack

Amman, Jordan (AP)—Jordan said Thursday its border units beat back an Israeli attack in the Hebron area.

"The enemy was seen retreating, carrying their dead with them," a Jordan military spokesman said.

He claimed the attack followed an earlier exchange of gunfire across the border that killed one Jordan shepherd and wounded two others. Fifty head of cattle were also killed, he said.

In Tel Aviv, an Israeli army spokesman said Israel lodged a complaint with the mixed armistice commission over the border exchange. He said the incident started when firing opened from the Jordan side of Mt. Hebron at an Israeli patrol.

Sunny Galore Riding Shotgun To Kansas City

St. Louis, Mo. (AP)—St. Louis Mayor A. J. Cervantes sent a tank truck filled with 5,500 gallons of "good St. Louis water" Thursday to Kansas City Mayor I. W. Davis.

It was the latest round in the battle of one-upmanship between the mayors. Last week Davis sent Cervantes a bottle of "good Kansas City air."

Cervantes sent a curvacious blond model called Sunny Galore to ride shotgun on the water truck and deliver the gift to Davis.

A sign on the side read: "To Kansas City with love from St. Louis."

Gina's 93-71-89 Mystifies Smith

By GEOFFREY GOULD

Washington (AP) — Twelve grown men sat around a green baize table Thursday and talked of rods, pence, centimeters, Charlemagne's thumb and a little red school house.

The House Rules Committee was considering a familiar subject:

Should the United States convert to the metric system of measurements as has most of the rest of the world, or stick to inches, feet, yards, miles, ounces, pounds and tons?

When all the talk was done, the metric system hadn't advanced a centimeter.

Isolated Island

Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., chairman of the House Committee on Science and Astronautics, argued for his bill providing for a three-year, $2.5-million study of a possible changeover. "We'll be one island, isolated, using a system that has little rhyme or reason," Miller said.

He recalled that the English yard was determined as the distance from King Charles' nose to the tip of his finger, "and the inch was the thumb of Charlemagne."

Smith, peering from under his shaggy eyebrows, told Miller, "I got my education in a one-room red school house. We took our degrees in the three R's. Just to make an honest confession, I don't know what the metric system is."

Miller did his best to explain, and acknowledged there would be some trouble changing in some areas.

Gina 93-71-89

For instance, he said, Gina Lollobridgida's measurements, instead of the familiar 36-28-34, would become 93-71-89.

"Are you talking about meters or inches?" Smith asked.

"Centimeters," Miller said.

"Oh, we haven't come to that yet," Smith replied.

"Is that one of the fields the Committee on Science and Astronautics is studying?" asked Rep. H. Allen Smith, R-Calif. "No wonder so many members are trying to get on that committee."

Rep. James G. Fulton, R-Pa., contended Congress should make an immediate policy declaration in favor of the metric system.

Flour Mill Executives Plead No Contest To Flour Price Fix

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP)—A federal court judge allowed four flour-milling executives Thursday to plead no contest (nolo contendre) to conspiracy charges stemming from an alleged flour price-fixing conspiracy.

Judge John O. Henderson of U.S. District Court here granted a request by the executives to switch earlier pleas of innocent to no contest.

The executives, by entering the no contest plea, neither admit nor deny guilt to the charges, but are subject to sentencing as if they had been convicted.

Henderson did not set a date for sentencing.

The four executives who pleaded no contest were:

William A. Ohman Jr., vice president of General Mills Inc., and William R. Seegard, vice president of the Flour mills division of the Peavey Co., both of Minneapolis, Bernard J. Rothwell II, president of Bay State Milling Co., Winona, Minn., and John J. Vanier, vice president of Gooch Milling & Elevator Co., Lincoln, Neb.

A federal grand jury returned indictments in April, 1964, against 12 flour-milling companies and six executives. The indictments accused the firms and executives of conspiring to fix the price of baker flour sold east of the Rocky Mountains. This was a violation of the Sherman antitrust act, the indictments charged.

The companies pleaded no contest to the indictments last March and were fined a total of $190,000. All the executives pleaded innocent to the charges.

The Rules Committee, headed by 82-year-old Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., decided to defer the matter. That consigned the bill to a limbo of unknown duration.

Isolated Island

Rep. George P Miller, D-Calif, chairman of the House Committee on Science and Astronautics, argued for his bill providing for a three-year, $2.5-million study of a possible changeover. "We'll be one island, isolated, using a system that has little rhyme or reason," Miller said.

He recalled that the English yard was determined as the distance from King Charles' nose to the tip of his finger, "and the inch was the thumb of Charlemagne."

Smith, peering from under his shaggy eyebrows, told Miller, "I got my education in a one-room red school house. We took our degrees in the three R's. Just to make an honest confession, I don't know what the metric system is."

Miller did his best to explain, and acknowledged there would be some trouble changing in some areas.

Gina 93-71-89

For instance, he said, Gina Lollobridgida's measurements, instead of the familiar 36-28-34, would become 93-71-89.

"Are you talking about meters or inches?" Smith asked.

"Centimeters," Miller said.

"Oh, we haven't come to that yet," Smith replied.

"Is that one of the fields the Committee on Science and Astronautics is studying?" asked Rep. H. Allen Smith, R-Calif. "No wonder so many members are trying to get on that committee."

Rep. James G. Fulton, R-Pa., contended Congress should make an immediate policy declaration in favor of the metric system.

Flour Mill Executives Plead No Contest To Flour Price Fix

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP)—A federal court judge allowed four flour-milling executives Thursday to plead no contest (nolo contendre) to conspiracy charges stemming from an alleged flour price-fixing conspiracy.

Judge John O. Henderson of U.S. District Court here granted a request by the executives to switch earlier pleas of innocent to no contest.

The executives, by entering the no contest plea, neither admit nor deny guilt to the charges, but are subject to sentencing as if they had been convicted.

Henderson did not set a date for sentencing.

The four executives who pleaded no contest were:

William A Ohman Jr., vice president of General Mills Inc., and William R. Seegard, vice president of the Flour mills division of the Peavey Co., both of Minneapolis, Bernard J. Rothwell II, president of Bay State Milling Co, Winona, Minn., and John J. Vanier, vice president of Gooch Milling & Elevator Co., Lincoln, Neb.

A federal grand jury returned indictments in April, 1964, against 12 flour-milling companies and six executives. The indictments accused the firms and executives of conspiring to fix the price of baker flour sold east of the Rocky Mountains. This was a violation of the Sherman antitrust act, the indictments charged.

The companies pleaded no contest to the indictments last March and were fined a total of $190,000. All the executives pleaded innocent to the charges.

Police Attacked For Black Muslim Raid

Los Angeles (AP) — Controversy, reaching all the way to the governor's office, has erupted over a police shooting raid on Black Muslim headquarters after days of rioting in Negro districts here.

A Negro city councilman has directed Police Chief William H. Parker to appear personally before him to make a complete report on the affair, and Parker has refused. The chief agreed, however, to make a written report.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says it's possible police "may have overacted" in the situation. He added at a news conference that he is sure a municipal judge who dismissed charges against 19 Muslims arrested in the raid acted "in the interest of justice."

And Muslim Minister John Shabazz told a news conference he is asking Gov. Edmund G. Brown to institute criminal conspiracy proceedings against city, county and state agencies for what he called harrassment of Muslims.

He called the raid a premeditated plan to get inside the mosque, accused police of wanton destruction, and said the place will have to be rebuilt from the ground up.

The raid was at 2 a.m. Aug. 18, when tension still was high in the wake of 36 deaths and $45 million in property damage from five days of wild rioting in Negro districts.

Police, saying they had an anonymous call that guns were being taken into the mosque of the black supremacy organization, went to the mosque in force.

They fired an estimated 500 shots into it after, they said, they were fired upon. Then they searched it and arrested 59 Muslims. Police said no weapons were found.

The Muslims are a nationwide organization militantly advocating separation of white and black races and supremacy of the black.

Congress Passes Appropriation Bill For School Aid

Washington (AP)—Both House and Senate passed by voice vote Thursday at $1,223,181,500 appropriation bill to finance the new program of federal aid for elementary and secondary education.

The bill is a compromise of measures passed earlier by the Senate and the House.

The school funds, for use during the fiscal year ending next June 30, account for $967 million of the total, with $775 million of that amount earmarked for needs of educationally deprived children.

Negro Children Put In White Boston Schools

Boston (AP)—A group of Negro parents, who charged their neighborhood schools were overcrowded and "de facto segregated," took their children Thursday to schools in predominantly white districts.

Six busloads of parents and children, plus others in private cars, went to four schools away from their home districts, taking advantage of a school department rule that children may enroll in schools away from their home districts if space is available.

In one of the outlying schools a spokesman said about 35 who had brought transfer cards from their former schools were enrolled. About 50 others were told they'd have to wait until they could bring their records.

In another school the names of about 100 were taken and the principal said they would be put on a waiting list for future enrollment. But, said principal Martin Feeney, "we are crowded now, we need more room."

At the other two schools, the children either were enrolled or their names taken for a waiting list.

Superintendent of Schools William H. Ohrenberger said an accurate count of vacancies at the four outlying schools would not be available until Friday and that if there were enough, the children will be enrolled.

LBJ Appreciates It

Washington (UPI)—Eldon James, the new national commander of the American Legion, presented President Johnson with resolutions of Legion support for his policies in Viet Nam and elsewhere. James told reporters that Johnson was appreciative of the position taken by the Legion.

The bride's attendants, who wore slim-skirted frocks in blue-green cyrstalette, were Miss Luetta Nelson, as her sister's maid of honor; Miss Bonita Shaffer and Miss Elaine Sandbek of St. Paul, Minn., the bridesmaids; and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Nancy Nelson, also a sister of the bride.

Donald Nelson of St. Paul, served Mr. Yost as best man, and seating the guests were Keith Rohla and Jerry Loss, Lincoln; Jim Schulz, Minneapolis; Chris Farmer and David Farmer, Albert Lea.

For her wedding gown, the bride selected ivory satin and imported French lace. Lace smoothed over satin fashioned the fitted basque, and the slender lines of the skirt were emphasized by a panel train of the lace and silk. A pillbox cap of lace held her silk illusion veil.

Mr. and Mrs. Yost will live in Lincoln, at 4944 Franklin. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, the bridegroom is studying for a Masters degree in chemical engineering. Mrs. Yost is a graduate of Mankato, Minn. Commercial College.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Aldrup, and her fiance are both students at the University of Nebraska.

NEWS of the suburban areas

Friday is a day of celebration for the younger generation. It is the last day of real vacation before nine months of class work begins on Monday. An air of calmness will suddenly envelop suburbia beginning next week, confining all of the neighborhood noise until the afternoon hours.

On this final day of vacation, we have moving and visiting news, plus the latest style in another kind of celebrating—the traveling birthday cake.

EASTBOROUGH

We hear that there has been a "traveling cake" in Lincoln recently. We couldn't believe it either, but here's the whole story.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wilde and daughter, Kathy, made an emergency trip to Danasota, N.Y. in August to visit Mr. Wilde's father who was in the hospital. While visiting in Danasota Kathy celebrated her 21st birthday and for this occasion Kathy's great-aunt baked a birthday cake.

Kathy saved the left-over cake to bring back to Lincoln to help her grandmother, Mrs. Harold Weston, celebrate her birthday August 28th.

But this is only the beginning. There still was more cake, and that last piece was saved to greet John Wilde who returned Sept. 1 to visit his parents after a year's absence. He is serving with the Army's "Screaming Eagles" paratroopers.

Thus endth the tale of the traveling cake, but now John has a problem. While on his 26-day leave from the service he has purchased a Honda. How he is going to get this back to his post, Fort Campbell, Ky. is going to take a little thought.

Eastborough has been a host this past week to Mr. and Mrs. Dane Osborne of Akron, Ohio. The Osbornes were guests at the home of Mr. Osborne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Osborne, and his grandmother, Mrs. Ann McCracken, of 367 W. Rio Rd. The couple left Sunday for Akron, where they are physical therapists in a local hospital.

Moving from South 33rd Street into this surburban area are Mr.and Mrs. Richard Halsey and their small daughter, Trisha. Mr. Halsey is an employee of the Hinky Dinky stores.

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Three No-trump. North leads the six of spades. How would you play the hand?

♠ A 10 4 ♥ K J 7 4 ♦ 10 8 3 ♣ A Q J   N W E S   ♠ K 5 2 ♥ Q 10 5 ♦ Q J 7 ♣ K 8 6 3

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Four Spades. The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1 ♣	1 ♦	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

North leads the ten of diamonds and you lose the king to the ace. South returns the queen of diamonds. How would you play the hand?

♠ A 109754 ♥ Q 10 6 ♦ 6 ♣ K J 2   N W E S   ♠ K J 8 ♥ A J 3 ♦ K 5 ♣ Q 10 9 4 3

1. The hand looks easy enough to play, but, if you are not careful, you may go down. The key play is to win the spade lead with the king. Then cash the A-Q-J of clubs and play a heart to the queen. If it loses to the ace, you have nine tricks; if the queen wins the trick, cash the king of clubs, and then force out the ace of hearts.

If you were to win the opening lead with the ace of spades and then cashed the A-Q-J of clubs, you might then be defeated if the defense refused to win the first two heart leads. You would not be able to make three heart tricks and would fall a trick short of the contract.

2. There is some danger of losing a trick in each suit, but all you can do now is take every possible precaution to prevent this from happening. There is no sure way of avoiding a trump loser, missing four to the queen, but the odds favor North's having the greater trump length because South, from his overcall, is known to be long in diamonds.

After ruffing the diamond, lead the ace of spades. Assuming that both defenders follow low, play another spade, finessing the jack if North follows low.

The finesse assures the contract whether or not it is successful. If the finesse wins, cash the king, force out the ace of clubs, and you then have eleven tricks, since your hearts can be discarded on the clubs.

If the jack loses, the contract is still safe. Only the ace of clubs will then be lost, thus assuring four. If you neglect to finesse the spade, you may go down under certain circumstances. North may have the ace of clubs as well as the queen of spades, in which case a heart lead from him may defeat you if South has the king.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Boy, do I need help! I am writing this from Honolulu, Hawaii, where my bride and I are spending our honeymoon. The reason I have time to write to you is because my bride of four days is busy right now writing THANK YOU notes for our wedding gifts! Don't you think if our friends receive thank you notes written by my wife on her honeymoon trip, they will wonder if she is normal?

NEWLY WED

DEAR NEWLY: No, They'll probably wonder if YOU are.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure you've seen those cartoons of the impatient husband waiting for his wife to finish dressing. Well, it's just the opposite at our house. No matter what time my husband says we shall leave, we are always late. We have not once, since our marriage 26 years ago, been on time anywhere. This includes starting off for a plane or train. When he calls from the office to say he'll be home in "a few minutes," it can be anywhere from 15 minutes to 2 hours. Believe it or not, he is a successful doctor! He never offers a definite excuse. He was always "tied up." When our married children invite us for dinner, they start without us and we eat reheated leftovers. They say, "Daddy is always late." How can I cure my husband of this irritating habit without staying home and punishing myself as well?

DOCTOR'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If you haven't been able to "cure him" in 26 years, pronounce him incurable and learn to live with it. A successful doctor needs patients. A successful doctor's wife needs patience.

Not All Football

It may have been because they had seen nothing but football personnel for seven straight days, but when St. Louis Cardinals star Bill White walked into the room during a pre-dinner cocktail party at Columbia, Mo., Missouri's football coaches were left standing alone as writers flocked to White's side.

One of the first questions asked of White was in regard to the Juan Marichal-John Roseboro bat hitting incident.

"I wasn't there so I don't know whether the punishment was too lenient or not," he commented, then switched slightly to the side of Marichal. "It's not right to hit someone with a bat, but you've got to remember it was in the heat of battle.

"I remember once when a pitcher threw at me, I started toward the mound and without realizing it, I still had the bat in my hand. As soon as someone reminded me I had the bat, I dropped it."

When asked what he would do if someone hit him with a bat, White replied, "That's hard to say, but I think if someone hit me, we'd probably be fighting already."

The Cardinal star picked Los Angeles to win the National League pennant "on their better pitching and defense" then reminded the football writers how important the number 10 can be in 140.

"If we had won 10 games that we lost, we'd now be in first place," he pointed out. At the time White spoke, the Cardinals had won 70 and lost 70 and San Francisco was 77-59. Ten more wins would have put the Cards one game ahead of the Giants.

92 Games Will Win

Replying to a question as to the Cards' status in the National League race, White opined St. Louis would have to win its remaining 22 games to win the pennant.

"And that isn't very likely," he added. White was right as the Cardinals lost the next night to Pittsburgh, 2-1. "I figure it will take 92 games to win the championship and we just lost too many games because we didn't get enough runs for our pitchers," White continued.

White then went into a huddle with Missouri baseball coach Hi Simmons who was trying to explain to him how to correct a problem he has been having this season with pitchers jamming him with tight pitches.

"Try sliding that front foot back instead of striding into the pitch," Simmons suggested. "I know I should be doing that coach, but I can't seem to. You know it's hard to teach an old dog new tricks."

Helped Recruit Washington

White was invited to the meeting by Missouri head coach Dan Devine who uses the Cardinals Negro athlete in his recruiting efforts.

White helped Missouri recruit Russ Washington, the 6-6, 279-pound defensixe end from Kansas City, Mo., a story that should restore people's faith in the "good guy wins" role.

White was one of two Negro athletes who wrote to the big Kansas City Negro. The other writer was former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, who wrote on behalf of Colorado. Washington explained that Kansas and Nebraska also bid for his talents among Big Eight schools. But apparently neither had Negro celebrities.

"I was surprised, but it didn't make me think any more highly of Colorado," Washington replied when asked how he felt about getting a letter from Liston. "But the one from White impressed me," he noted. It wasn't the deciding factor in my coming to Missouri, but it helped."

Another defeat for Sonny.

Blundy Wins Fair Feature

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Jerry Blundy of Galesburg, Ill., drove his Chevrolet super-modified stock car to victory in the final day of the Nebraska State Fair racing program's feature race with most of the 25 laps being run under the yellow caution flag.

The yellow flag was out nearly as much as the United States flag Thursday with the fence taking the biggest beating in the first three heat races.

Roy McCain of Lincoln suffered the only injury when his auto spun out in the first heat race and crashed through the inner fence on the first turn.

A chunk of 2x2 wood from the fence imbedded itself in McCain's leg and a saw was needed to get him from the car. The injured driver was taken to a local hospital where surgery was performed to remove the lumber.

The track fence was battered by cars in both the second and third heat races also but no one was injured.

Blundy took the lead early in the 25-lap feature and held it throughout the race. Only the yellow caution flag kept him from making a complete runaway of the event.

"I just coasted most of the way," Blundy observed after the race. "But just as I was really ready to let up on the gas and coast around, that yellow flag would go up and I would lose my lead again."

When the yellow caution flag is up, drivers may not improve their standing, but they can move up closer to the car in front of them.

"The car was really working good today (Thursday)," he pointed out, "and I felt I had it won all the way barring mechanical troubles."

With Blundy an apparent winner from the start, most of the excitement in the race centered around two Lincoln drivers battling for second place.

Lloyd Beckman was listed on the program as driver of car 4X, owned by Bill Smith, but a dispute between Beckman and Smith before their heat race caused Beckman to climb out of 4X and into John Wilkinson's auto.

Smith then got Don Brown to drive his racer. Brown won the third heat with Beckman second.

In the feature race, Brown and Beckman hung back in fourth and fifth place respectively through nearly three-quarters of the race before Brown spurted up to second.

Then with four laps remaining, Beckman charged from fifth to second overhauling Brown. The two contested nearly neck and neck the remainder of the race with Beckman winning by two car lengths.

Don Premble of Scranton, Iowa, who had spun out in an earlier race, came back in the consolation feature to lap two cars in the eight-lap race.

In addition to the feature race, Blundy also won the first heat in which McCain was injured as one hour and 15 minutes were required to run the first two heats before a crowd of 4,100.

Results:

Second heat—1. Grady Wade, Wichita; 2. Bob Coulter, Lincoln; 3. Gordon Wooley, Waco, Tex.

Third heat—1. Don Brown, Lincoln; 2. Lloyd Beckman, Lincoln; 3. Marv Sohl, Lincoln.

Fourth heat—1. J. L. Cooper, Kansas City; 2. Hank Smith, Mount Ayr, Iowa; 3. Jerry Weld, Kansas City.

Consolation feature—1. Don Pemble, Scranton, Iowa; 2. Wayne Rutland, Lincoln; 3. Stan Burofski, Kansas City.

Auto Racing Observes 50th Season At Fair

Auto racing at the Nebraska State Fair observed its 50th anniversary with Thursday's closing program of semi-modified stock car racing.

Al Sweeney, president of the sponsoring IMCA, presented plaques to The Lincoln Star and The Lincoln Journal for having covered the State Fair racing program since its beginning 50 years ago.

. . . GIANTS KEEP LEAD

San Francisco (AP)—Right-hander Juan Marichal made his first start in San Francisco's Candlestick Park since his Aug. 22 battle with John Roseboro and hurled the National League-leading Giants to a 4-0 triumph over Houston.

Marichal notched his 21st victory of the campaign and his 10th shutout limiting the Astros to four hits, only two out of the infield.

The Giants won their sixth straight, jumping into a two-run lead in the second inning on a walk to Willie McCovey, a triple by Len Gabrielson and Tom Haller's sacrifice fly.

Haller whacked his 12th homer in the fifth. The Giants added another run that inning when Dick Schofield doubled and came all the way around as Jesus Alou beat out a hit to deep short.

Marichal didn't give up a hit until Walt Bond singled in the fourth, although earlier that inning Willie Mays had to race to the fence in right center and make one-handed stab of Joe Morgan's drive.

The crowd of 20,076 cheered Marichal when he went out for his pre-game warm-up and when he faced the first Houston batter. The Dominican hurler hadn't pitched here since the battle with Roseboro when he hit the Los Angeles Dodger catcher on the head with a bat and drew an eight-day suspension and $1,750 fine.

Since his suspension, Marichal had won one and lost one on the road.

Marichal struck out five and walked only one.

Cubs' Bob Hendley Loses To LA With One-Hitter

. . . BY 1-0 COUNT

Los Angeles (AP)—Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers pitched a perfect game Thursday night in a 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs and became the first pitcher in baseball history to pitch four no-hitters in his career.

..Outpitching Bob Hendley in the brilliant duel between the two left-handers, Koufax marked off his fourth no-hitter in consecutive years and surpassed the record for multiple no-hitters held by Bob Feller, Denton Cy Young and Larry Corcoran.

Hendley, who allowed only one hit, was reached for a run in the fifth inning when the Dodgers scored without a hit. Lou Johnson walked to open the inning, was sacrificed to second, stole third and raced home when catcher Chris Krug threw wild.

That was enough for the Dodgers, who remained one-half game back of first-place San Francisco in the tight National League pennant race.

The only hit off Hendley—and the only hit of the game—was Johnson's bloop double to right field with two out in the seventh inning.

Koufax, a 29-year-old fireballer whose career was in jeopardy three years ago because of a circulatory ailment in his pitching hand, achieved a baseball plateau no other hurler has reached as he set 27 Cubs down in order.

Koufax struck out 14, lifting his major league leading total to 332, as he posted the first perfect game in his sparkling 11-year career, the eigth in modern history and only the third in National League annals, following Jim Bunning's last year.

He also eclipsed all multiple not-hit hurlers. Feller, the long-time Cleveland ace, pitched no-hitters in 1940, 1946 and 1951 and was the only modern besides Koufax to have as many as three no-hitters.

The perfect game—with no runner getting to first base by any means—was the first since Bunning accomplished the feat against the New York Mets, June 21, last year. The only other perfect game in modern National League history was pitched by Harvey Haddix.

The no-hitter was the third in the majors this season. Cincinnati's Jim Maloney pitched two, winning one and losing another. In Maloney's losing no-hitter he gave up a hit in the 10th inning.

Koufax, whose career was threatened following the 1962 season, also was presented with another chilling possibility when it developed this spring that he was suffering from arthritis in the elbow of his pitching arm .

Doctors at first feared that Koufax would be a once-a-week hurler, but the ace left-hander has managed to take his turn every four days However, he packs his arm in ice after the game to guard against any serious injury.

His no-hitter was the first pitched by a Dodger since Carl Erskine pitched one against the Cubs, June 19, 1952.

Hendley also had a perfect game going until Johnson walked in the fifth, and became the game's first base runner. His brilliant effort, however, turned into a loss and he suffered his third defeat against only two victories.

Optimism In Prep Grid Camps As Season Opens

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Optimism is the keynote in all high school football camps as the teams start with a clean slate when the 1965 season opens Friday.

The 1965 campaign follows one of the biggest off-season games of coaching musical chairs in history with unusually large turnovers in the Class A and B ranks accompanying the usual shifts in the smaller schools.

"Wait and see" attitudes are in order in most of the schools which have new mentors, with many of them facing rebuilding jobs of one sort or another.

Traditional rivalries dot the opening week schedule with many of the battles expected to be significant in respect to top ten ratings.

Class B teams get the primary challenges. Crete, York and Holdrege open against Class A outfits. Crete plays host to Beatrice, York opens against 1964's unbeaten Columbus eleven and Holdrege gets an early test against McCook.

The Class C headliner is at Wakefield, where 1964 powers Wisner and Wakefield bid for a quick start in the 1965 race.

New rivalries and some new opponents crop up in Class A with the effects of the new Trans-Nebraska and Megopolitan Conferences being felt.

The opening week headliners:

North Platte v. Southeast at Seacrest Field—Both clubs in rebuilding processes. Knights have history of early trouble so Bulldogs get the call.

South Sioux City at Piux X—This one should be just a warm-up for the Thunderbolts.

Northeast at Fremont—Quick getaway forecast for Rockets.

Lincoln High at Omaha Central (at Bergquist)—Joe Orduna poses big threat, but Links have more versatility.

Columbus at York—Dukes could get the job done here, but give slim edge to Columbus.

Beatrice at Crete—Most of the players who were involved in last year's 27-27 tie are gone. Beatrice has more experience.

East Butler at Norris—First football defeat for new school is likely as Tigers welcome Norris into Atlas Conference.

Aurora at Cozad—Winner will emerge as one of top Class B contenders. Haymakers look stronger.

Not All Football

It may have been because they had seen nothing but football personnel for seven straight days, but when St. Louis Cardinals star Bill White walked into the room during a pre-dinner cocktail party at Columbia, Mo., Missouri's football coaches were left standing alone as writers flocked to White's side.

One of the first questions asked of White was in regard to the Juan Marichal-John Roseboro bat hitting incident.

"I wasn't there so I don't know whether the punishment was too lenient or not," he commented, then switched slightly to the side of Marichal. "It's not right to hit someone with a bat, but you've got to remember it was in the heat of battle.

"I remember once when a pitcher threw at me, I started toward the mound and without realizing it, I still had the bat in my hand. As soon as someone reminded me I had the bat, I dropped it."

When asked what he would do if someone hit him with a bat, White replied, "That's hard to say, but I think if someone hit me, we'd probably be fighting already."

The Cardinal star picked Los Angeles to win the National League pennant "on their better pitching and defense" then reminded the football writers how important the number 10 can be in 140.

"If we had won 10 games that we lost, we'd now be in first place," he pointed out. At the time White spoke, the Cardinals had won 70 and lost 70 and San Francisco was 77-59. Ten more wins would have put the Cards one game ahead of the Giants.

92 Games Will Win

Replying to a question as to the Cards' status in the National League race, White opined St. Louis would have to win its remaining 22 games to win the pennant.

"And that isn't very likely," he added. White was right as the Cardinals lost the next night to Pittsburgh, 2-1. "I figure it will take 92 games to win the championship and we just lost too many games because we didn't get enough runs for our pitchers," White continued.

White then went into a huddle with Missouri baseball coach Hi Simmons who was trying to explain to him how to correct a problem he has been having this season with pitchers jamming him with tight pitches.

"Try sliding that front foot back instead of striding into the pitch," Simmons suggested. "I know I should be doing that coach, but I can't seem to. You know it's hard to teach an old dog new tricks."

Helped Recruit Washington

White was invited to the meeting by Missouri head coach Dan Devine who uses the Cardinals Negro athlete in his recruiting efforts.

White helped Missouri recruit Russ Washington, the 6-6, 279-pound defensixe end from Kansas City, Mo., a story that should restore people's faith in the "good guy wins" role.

White was one of two Negro athletes who wrote to the big Kansas City Negro. The other writer was former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, who wrote on behalf of Colorado. Washington explained that Kansas and Nebraska also bid for his talents among Big Eight schools. But apparently neither had Negro celebrities.

"I was surprised, but it didn't make me think any more highly of Colorado," Washington replied when asked how he felt about getting a letter from Liston. "But the one from White impressed me," he noted. It wasn't the deciding factor in my coming to Missouri, but it helped."

Another defeat for Sonny.

Blundy Wins Fair Feature

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Jerry Blundy of Galesburg, Ill., drove his Chevrolet super-modified stock car to victory in the final day of the Nebraska State Fair racing program's feature race with most of the 25 laps being run under the yellow caution flag.

The yellow flag was out nearly as much as the United States flag Thursday with the fence taking the biggest beating in the first three heat races.

Roy McCain of Lincoln suffered the only injury when his auto spun out in the first heat race and crashed through the inner fence on the first turn.

A chunk of 2x2 wood from the fence imbedded itself in McCain's leg and a saw was needed to get him from the car. The injured driver was taken to a local hospital where surgery was performed to remove the lumber.

The track fence was battered by cars in both the second and third heat races also but no one was injured.

Blundy took the lead early in the 25-lap feature and held it throughout the race. Only the yellow caution flag kept him from making a complete runaway of the event.

"I just coasted most of the way," Blundy observed after the race. "But just as I was really ready to let up on the gas and coast around, that yellow flag would go up and I would lose my lead again."

When the yellow caution flag is up, drivers may not improve their standing, but they can move up closer to the car in front of them.

"The car was really working good today (Thursday)," he pointed out, "and I felt I had it won all the way barring mechanical troubles."

With Blundy an apparent winner from the start, most of the excitement in the race centered around two Lincoln drivers battling for second place.

Lloyd Beckman was listed on the program as driver of car 4X, owned by Bill Smith, but a dispute between Beckman and Smith before their heat race caused Beckman to climb out of 4X and into John Wilkinson's auto.

Smith then got Don Brown to drive his racer. Brown won the third heat with Beckman second.

In the feature race, Brown and Beckman hung back in fourth and fifth place respectively through nearly three-quarters of the race before Brown spurted up to second.

Then with four laps remaining, Beckman charged from fifth to second overhauling Brown. The two contested nearly neck and neck the remainder of the race with Beckman winning by two car lengths.

Don Premble of Scranton, Iowa, who had spun out in an earlier race, came back in the consolation feature to lap two cars in the eight-lap race.

In addition to the feature race, Blundy also won the first heat in which McCain was injured as one hour and 15 minutes were required to run the first two heats before a crowd of 4,100.

Results:

First heat—1. Jerry Blundy, Galesburg, Ill.; 2. Lonnie Jensen, Lincoln; 3. George Odvody, Lincoln.

Auto Racing Observes 50th Season At Fair

Auto racing at the Nebraska State Fair observed its 50th anniversary with Thursday's closing program of semi-modified stock car racing.

Al Sweeney, president of the sponsoring IMCA, presented plaques to The Lincoln Star and The Lincoln Journal for having covered the State Fair racing program since its beginning 50 years ago.

Marichal Posts 21st Victory, 4-0

. . . GIANTS KEEP LEAD

San Francisco (AP)—Right-hander Juan Marichal made his first start in San Francisco's Candlestick Park since his Aug. 22 battle with John Roseboro and hurled the National League-leading Giants to a 4-0 triumph over Houston.

Marichal notched his 21st victory of the campaign and his 10th shutout limiting the Astros to four hits, only two out of the infield.

The Giants won their sixth straight, jumping into a two-run lead in the second inning on a walk to Willie McCovey, a triple by Len Gabrielson and Tom Haller's sacrifice fly.

Haller whacked his 12th homer in the fifth. The Giants added another run that inning when Dick Schofield doubled and came all the way around as Jesus Alou beat out a hit to deep short.

Marichal didn't give up a hit until Walt Bond singled in the fourth, although earlier that inning Willie Mays had to race to the fence in right center and make one-handed stab of Joe Morgan's drive.

The crowd of 20,076 cheered Marichal when he went out for his pre-game warm-up and when he faced the first Houston batter. The Dominican hurler hadn't pitched here since the battle with Roseboro when he hit the Los Angeles Dodger catcher on the head with a bat and drew an eight-day suspension and $1,750 fine.

Since his suspension, Marichal had won one and lost one on the road.

Marichal struck out five and walked only one.

Cubs' Bob Hendley Loses To LA With One-Hitter

. . . BY 1-0 COUNT

SANDY KOUFAX . . . delivers late in game.

Los Angeles (AP)—Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers pitched a perfect game Thursday night in a 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs and became the first pitcher in baseball history to pitch four no-hitters in his career.

..Outpitching Bob Hendley in the brilliant duel between the two left-handers, Koufax marked off his fourth no-hitter in consecutive years and surpassed the record for multiple no-hitters held by Bob Feller, Denton Cy Young and Larry Corcoran.

Hendley, who allowed only one hit, was reached for a run in the fifth inning when the Dodgers scored without a hit. Lou Johnson walked to open the inning, was sacrificed to second, stole third and raced home when catcher Chris Krug threw wild.

That was enough for the Dodgers, who remained one-half game back of first-place San Francisco in the tight National League pennant race.

The only hit off Hendley—and the only hit of the game—was Johnson's bloop double to right field with two out in the seventh inning.

Koufax, a 29-year-old fireballer whose career was in jeopardy three years ago because of a circulatory ailment in his pitching hand, achieved a baseball plateau no other hurler has reached as he set 27 Cubs down in order.

Koufax struck out 14, lifting his major league leading total to 332, as he posted the first perfect game in his sparkling 11-year career, the eigth in modern history and only the third in National League annals, following Jim Bunning's last year.

He also eclipsed all multiple not-hit hurlers. Feller, the long-time Cleveland ace, pitched no-hitters in 1940, 1946 and 1951 and was the only modern besides Koufax to have as many as three no-hitters.

The perfect game—with no runner getting to first base by any means—was the first since Bunning accomplished the feat against the New York Mets, June 21, last year. The only other perfect game in modern National League history was pitched by Harvey Haddix.

The no-hitter was the third in the majors this season. Cincinnati's Jim Maloney pitched two, winning one and losing another. In Maloney's losing no-hitter he gave up a hit in the 10th inning.

Koufax, whose career was threatened following the 1962 season, also was presented with another chilling possibility when it developed this spring that he was suffering from arthritis in the elbow of his pitching arm .

Doctors at first feared that Koufax would be a once-a-week hurler, but the ace left-hander has managed to take his turn every four days However, he packs his arm in ice after the game to guard against any serious injury.

His no-hitter was the first pitched by a Dodger since Carl Erskine pitched one against the Cubs, June 19, 1952.

Hendley also had a perfect game going until Johnson walked in the fifth, and became the game's first base runner. His brilliant effort, however, turned into a loss and he suffered his third defeat against only two victories.

Optimism In Prep Grid Camps As Season Opens

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Optimism is the keynote in all high school football camps as the teams start with a clean slate when the 1965 season opens Friday.

The 1965 campaign follows one of the biggest off-season games of coaching musical chairs in history with unusually large turnovers in the Class A and B ranks accompanying the usual shifts in the smaller schools.

"Wait and see" attitudes are in order in most of the schools which have new mentors, with many of them facing rebuilding jobs of one sort or another.

Traditional rivalries dot the opening week schedule with many of the battles expected to be significant in respect to top ten ratings.

Class B teams get the primary challenges. Crete, York and Holdrege open against Class A outfits. Crete plays host to Beatrice, York opens against 1964's unbeaten Columbus eleven and Holdrege gets an early test against McCook.

The Class C headliner is at Wakefield, where 1964 powers Wisner and Wakefield bid for a quick start in the 1965 race.

New rivalries and some new opponents crop up in Class A with the effects of the new Trans-Nebraska and Megopolitan Conferences being felt.

The opening week headliners:

North Platte v. Southeast at Seacrest Field—Both clubs in rebuilding processes. Knights have history of early trouble so Bulldogs get the call.

South Sioux City at Piux X—This one should be just a warm-up for the Thunderbolts.

Northeast at Fremont—Quick getaway forecast for Rockets.

Lincoln High at Omaha Central (at Bergquist)—Joe Orduna poses big threat, but Links have more versatility.

Columbus at York—Dukes could get the job done here, but give slim edge to Columbus.

Beatrice at Crete—Most of the players who were involved in last year's 27-27 tie are gone. Beatrice has more experience.

East Butler at Norris—First football defeat for new school is likely as Tigers welcome Norris into Atlas Conference.

Aurora at Cozad—Winner will emerge as one of top Class B contenders. Haymakers look stronger.

Twins Wallop White Sox, 10-4

Chicago (AP)—The Minnesota Twins blasted Joe Horlen with four runs in the first two innings then coasted behind the pitching of Jim Kaat and Al Worthington to crush the second place Chicago White Sox 10-4 Thursday and balloon their American League lead to seven games.

In sweeping the two-game series in the final meeting of the regular season between the two teams, the Twins all but knocked the White Sox out of the race with 19 games remaining.

The Sox now are barely hanging in second place, only ½ game ahead of idle Baltimore.

The Twins, who have no doubleheaders, remaining, move into Boston for the opener of a three-game stand Friday night. They have a 14-1 edge on the Red Sox. They wound up with 11-7 over the White Sox.

The Twins unloaded 15 hits off Horlen, Bob Locker, Eddie Fisher and Greg Bollo.

Tony Oliva's sacrifice fly accounted for one run in the first inning and the Twins made three more in the second off five singles. Hits by Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles and Jerry Kindall's sacrifice fly brought in the runs as Horlen was bombed.

The Twins picked up two unearned runs in the sixth to end Locker's mound duty and then blasted Fisher for two more in the seventh on doubles by Sandy Valdespino and Oliva and Earl Battey's single.

Kaat, 15-10 for the season and 4-0 over the White Sox, had a perfect game through the first four innings.

He walked John Romano to start the fifth and then Moose Skowron hit cleanly to right field, Romano stopping at second. Romano scored on a force out and an infield out.

The Sox added a run in the sixth when pinch hitter Jim Hicks doubled, went to third on Don Buford's single and came home on Floyd Robinson's sacrifice fly.

Kaat was replaced by Worthington in the seventh after Ron Hansen and Ken Berry singled. Smokey Burgess scored Hansen with a double. It was his 19th pinch hit in 59 trips this season and the 114th of his career.

Rhome's Replacement To Make Debut On TV

By DICK DUNKEL

College football's TV buffs should see a tubeful of 6-6 Glenn Dobbs Jr., Saturday.

As Tulsa's leading replacement for the great departed quarterback Jerry Rhome, young Dobbs will be working for his illustrious daddy, Coach Glenn Dobbs Sr., when the Hurricanes meet Houston in the initial college telecast of the 1965 season.

Under the expert guidance of Rhome, Tulsa wound up as the nation's third most improved team of 1964, according to the Dunkel Index.

The Hurricanes' final rating was 96.8—about 15 points stronger than Houston's wrap-up of 81.3. And that's how they shape up for next Saturday. The Cougars, playing at home, will unveil their new whiz halfback, Warren McVea, along with other sophomore talent in an attempt to upset the dope.

In Saturday's other major engagements Utah stands 45 points over Montana and Utah State rates 42 over Hawaii.

Wounded Foot To Keep Silas Out Of Early Training

St. Louis (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Assn. announced Thursday that forward Paul Silas will miss the first three weeks of fall training because of a shotgun wound in his left foot.

Hawks owner Ben Kerner said Silas, a 6'7 rebounding star who is moving from center to replace retired Bob Pettit, was wounded in an argument between a service station operator and a soldier just outside Ft. Jackson, S.C.

Silas, a former star at Creighton University, has been at the post for six months of military service. Kerner said he was only a bystander at the argument.

Silas underwent a skin graft necessary to repair the wound, which was suffered Aug. 14.

Sacramento Perch Added To State Fishing Records

Howard Colburn of Valentine has added a new category to the state fishing records with a 1-pound, 1-ounce Sacramento perch taken from Clear Lake on the Valentine Refuge.

Game Commission Conservation Officer Elvin Zimmerman verified the catch, which measured 11 inches long and 4¼ inches around.

The Sacramento perch is not really a perch, but a member of the sunfish family. At present, it is an uncommon catch in Nebraska. However, Sacramentos were introduced into Nebraska several years ago and are providing a welcome addition to a number of Sand Hills lakes.

Drysdale Offered Japanese Pact

Los Angeles (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale says he is considering a rich offer to play baseball in Japan. The big question is could he accept?

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was not immediately available for comment, but baseball experts said Drysdale could not play in Japan unless:—He was voluntarily retired by the Dodgers; or —His club gave him an unconditional release; or —He was sold to the interested Japanese club.

The chances of the Dodgers voluntarily giving up their No. 1 righthander are slim. Drysdale is earning an estimated $75,000 a year. He has won 18 this season and is headed for a 300-inning pitching season for the fourth year in a row.

An unauthorized jump to a Japanese club might bar him and his new owners from organized baseball.

The report of a $500,000 offer to Drysdale to pitch for an unidentified Japanese team appeared Thursday in a copyright story in the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.

Assistant General Manager Arthur Red Patterson said "Don has told us of no such offer. Our interest right now is in the tight pennant race."

Angels Dump A's On Smith's Double

Kansas City (AP)—Willie Smith's bases-loaded double keyed a four-run first inning that launched the California Angels to a 7-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics Thursday.

Smith's hit drove in three runs after the Angels had filled the bases against loser Lew Krausse on two singles and a walk. Rick Reichardt followed with an infield single that scored Smith.

Ed Charles homered with a man on the first for the A's, but Fred Newman held Kansas City scoreless the rest of the way.

Perez's Home Run Leads Reds To Win

. . . OVER NY METS

Cincinnati (AP) — Rookie Tony Perez slammed a bases-empty homer with two out in the ninth inning, pulling the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-2 victory over the New York Mets Thursday night.

The victory kept the Reds within one-half game of first-place San Francisco in the tight National League pennant struggle.

Perez's homer, off reliever Gordon Richardson, gave the victory to Sammy Ellis, his 19th against eight losses.

Deron Johnson's 28th home run gave the Reds a 2-0 lead in the fourth, but the Mets tied the score in the eighth on two singles and an error.

The Mets used three pinch hitters in the inning that started when Charlie Smith singled off Bill McCool. Ron Swoboda's pinch single sent Smith to second one out later, and both runners advanced when McCool threw out pinch hitter Greg Goossen.

Roy McMillan then singled across the two runs.

Johnson's home run off young Tug McGraw followed Pete Rose's lead-off single. McGraw gave up only four hits before he was lifted in the eighth for pinch hitter Goossen.

John Tsitouris started for Cincinnati and held the Mets to two hits until he left the game after six innings with a sore right elbow. McCool took over and retired the Mets in order in the seventh before they got to him in the eighth.

Artificial Snares Yellow Catfish

Republican City—Ivan Miller of Carleton had hoped for a white bass when he flipped his silver spoon into the spillway below Harlan County Reservoir.

The fish he hooked apparently hoped for Ivan Miller, the way the battle wore on. Son-in-law Robert Chancellor of Lincoln stood by with many minutes of encouragement.

Finally landed—and almost unheard of on an artificial—was a 12-pound yellow catfish.

Twins Wallop White Sox, 10-4

Chicago (AP)—The Minnesota Twins blasted Joe Horlen with four runs in the first two innings then coasted behind the pitching of Jim Kaat and Al Worthington to crush the second place Chicago White Sox 10-4 Thursday and balloon their American League lead to seven games.

In sweeping the two-game series in the final meeting of the regular season between the two teams, the Twins all but knocked the White Sox out of the race with 19 games remaining.

The Sox now are barely hanging in second place only ½ game ahead of idle Baltimore.

The Twins, who have no doubleheaders remaining, move into Boston for the opener of a three-game stand Friday night. They have a 14-1 edge on the Red Sox. They wound up with 11-7 over the White Sox.

The Twins unloaded 15 hits off Horlen, Bob Locker, Eddie Fisher and Greg Bollo.

Tony Oliva's sacrifice fly accounted for one run in the first inning and the Twins made three more in the second off five singles. Hits by Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles and Jerry Kindall's sacrifice fly brought in the runs as Horlen was bombed.

The Twins picked up two unearned runs in the sixth to end Locker's mound duty and then blasted Fisher for two more in the seventh on doubles by Sandy Valdespino and Oliva and Earl Battey's single.

Kaat, 15-10 for the season and 4-0 over the White Sox, had a perfect game through the first four innings.

He walked John Romano to start the fifth and then Moose Skowron hit cleanly to right field Romano stopping at second Romano scored on a force out and an infield out.

The Sox added a run in the sixth when pinch hitter Jim Hicks doubled, went to third on Don Buford's single and came home on Floyd Robinson's sacrifice fly.

Kaat was replaced by Worthington in the seventh after Ron Hansen and Ken Berry singled. Smokey Burgess scored Hansen with a double. It was his 19th pinch hit in 59 trips this season and the 114th of his career.

Rhome's Replacement To Make Debut On TV

By DICK DUNKEL

College football's TV buffs should see a tubeful of 6-6 Glenn Dobbs Jr., Saturday.

As Tulsa's leading replacement for the great departed quarterback Jerry Rhome, young Dobbs will be working for his illustrious daddy, Coach Glenn Dobbs Sr., when the Hurricanes meet Houston in the initial college telecast of the 1965 season.

Under the export guidance of Rhome, Tulsa wound up as the nation's third most improved team of 1964, according to the Dunkel Index.

The Hurricanes' final rating was 96.8—about 15 points stronger than Houston's wrap-up of 81.3. And that's how they shape up for next Saturday. The Cougars, playing at home, will unveil their new whiz halfback, Warren McVea, along with other sophomore talent in an attempt to upset the dope.

In Saturday's other major engagements Utah stands 45 points over Montana and Utah State rates 42 over Hawaii.

Wounded Foot To Keep Silas Out Of Early Training

St. Louis (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Assn announced Thursday that forward Paul Silas will miss the first three weeks of fall training because of a shotgun wound in his left foot.

Hawks owner Ben Kerner said Silas, a 6'7 rebounding star who is moving from center to replace retired Bob Pettit was wounded in an argument between a service station operator and a soldier just outside Ft. Jackson, S.C.

Silas, a former star at Creighton University, has been at the post for six months of military service. Kerner said he was only a bystander at the argument.

Silas underwent a skin graft necessary to repair the wound, which was suffered Aug. 14.

Sacramento Perch Added To State Fishing Records

Howard Colburn of Valentine has added a new category to the state fishing records with a 1-pound, 1-ounce Sacramento perch taken from Clear Lake on the Valentine Refuge.

Game Commission Conservation Officer Elvin Zimmerman verified the catch, which measured 11 inches long and 4¼ inches around.

The Sacramento perch is not really a perch, but a member of the sunfish family. At present, it is an uncommon catch in Nebraska. However, Sacramentos were introduced into Nebraska several years ago and are providing a welcome addition to a number of Sand Hills lakes.

Drysdale Offered Japanese Pact

Los Angeles (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale says he is considering a rich offer to play baseball in Japan. The big question is could he accept?

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was not immediately available for comment, but baseball experts said Drysdale could not play in Japan unless:—He was voluntarily retired by the Dodgers; or —His club gave him an unconditional release; or —He was sold to the interested Japanese club.

The chances of the Dodgers voluntarily giving up their No. 1 righthander are slim. Drysdale is earning an estimated $75,000 a year. He has won 18 this season and is headed for a 300-inning pitching season for the fourth year in a row.

An unauthorized jump to a Japanese club might bar him and his new owners from organized baseball.

The report of a $500,000 offer to Drysdale to pitch for an unidentified Japanese team appeared Thursday in a copyright story in the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.

Assistant General Manager Arthur Red Patterson said "Don has told us of no such offer. Our interest right now is in the tight pennant race."

Super-Modifieds Run At Midwest Speedway Friday

The super-modified racing scene shifts to Midwest Speedway at 27th & Superior Sts. in the Capital City for a special championship race Friday night.

First race time is 8 p.m. with drivers expected from as many as eight states according to track owners Jerry Gerdes and Jerry Biskup.

Midwest Speedway in this endeavor hopes to attract the top drivers who performed at the Nebraska State Fair on Thursday.

Of course, most of these will come directly from the Nebraska Modified Racing Association. The NMRA counts among its drivers John Wilkinson, point champion for the 1965 season, Lloyd Beckman, George Odvody, Roy McCain, Wayne Rutland, Joe Saldana, Frank Brennfoerder, Larry Upton, Bob Coulter, Don Brown and Rex Jordan.

Angels Dump A's On Smith's Double

Kansas City (AP)—Willie Smith's bases-loaded double keyed a four-run first inning that launched the California Angels to a 7-2 victory over the Kansas City Athletics Thursday.

Smith's hit drove in three runs after the Angels had filled the bases against loser Lew Krausse on two singles and a walk. Rick Reichardt followed with an infield single that scored Smith.

Ed Charles homered with a man on the first for the A's, but Fred Newman held Kansas City scoreless the rest of the way.

Perez's Home Run Leads Reds To Win

. . . OVER NY METS

Cincinnati (AP) — Rookie Tony Perez slammed a bases-empty homer with two out in the ninth inning, pulling the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-2 victory over the New York Mets Thursday night.

The victory kept the Reds within one-half game of first-place San Francisco in the tight National League pennant struggle.

Perez's homer, off reliever Gordon Richardson, gave the victory to Sammy Ellis, his 19th against eight losses.

Deron Johnson's 28th home run gave the Reds a 2-0 lead in the fourth, but the Mets tied the score in the eighth on two singles and an error.

The Mets used three pinch hitters in the inning that started when Charlie Smith singled off Bill McCool. Ron Swoboda's pinch single sent Smith to second one out later, and both runners advanced when McCool threw out pinch hitter Greg Goossen.

Roy McMillan then singled across the two runs.

Johnson's home run off young Tug McGraw followed Pete Rose's lead-off single. McGraw gave up only four hits before he was lifted in the eighth for pinch hitter Goossen.

John Tsitouris started for Cincinnati and held the Mets to two hits until he left the game after six innings with a sore right elbow. McCool took over and retired the Mets in order in the seventh before they got to him in the eighth.

Artificial Snares Yellow Catfish

Republican City—Ivan Miller of Carleton had hoped for a white bass when he flipped his silver spoon into the spillway below Harlan County Reservoir.

The fish he hooked apparently hoped for Ivan Miller, the way the battle wore on. Son-in-law Robert Chancellor of Lincoln stood by with many minutes of encouragement.

Finally landed—and almost unheard of on an artificial—was a 12-pound yellow catfish.

State Eligible For More Funds

Gov. Frank Morrison and State Welfare Director John Gage jointly announced Thursday that Nebraska is in line for an additional $750,000 federal funds for the state's public assistance program.

Under the new state plan, the state will be able to qualify for the additional federal funds by increasing the state's contribution by $150,000.

Morrison said federal officials indicated constructive and progressive legislative changes were responsible for approval of the new state plan.

He praised Gage and his staff for helping to bring about these important changes.

"By taking advantage of federal programming," Morrison said, "Nebraska is availing itself of governmental services which we help support."

Child-Stealing Case Hearing Set Oct. 8

The Nebraska Supreme Court announced Thursday that oral arguments in a Columbus, Neb., child-stealing case have been set for Oct. 8.

The Rev. George Swiney and his son, Loren, appealed their convictions and prison terms to the high court after Madison County District Court Judge George Dittrick sentenced the Rev. Mr. Swiney to 18 months to three years in the Nebraska Penal Complex, and his son to one year.

They were convicted of removing the children of Mrs. Harold Brinkman of Columbus from their home on Aug. 31, 1963, without Mrs. Brinkman's approval.

The high court earlier scheduled arguments in the case for Sept. 21, but this was moved back at the agreement of the Swineys' counsel and the state.

The Supreme Court scheduled for Oct. 7 arguments in a case involving former Omaha Police Chief Harold Ostler.

Ostler was suspended from the Omaha police force for 15 days in March, 1964, and was then demoted to captain by Public Safety Director Chris Gugas.

Gugas' decision was later approved by the City Personnel Board, but Douglas County District Court Judge Robert L. Smith ruled the personnel board erred in affirming the suspension and demotion of Ostler.

Official Trio Will Welcome Mrs. Humphrey

Omaha — When Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, wife of the vice president of the United States, arrives in Omaha Monday, she will be welcomed by Mrs. Frank B. Morrison, Mayor A. V. Sorensen and Dr. Paul Miller.

Mrs. Humphrey's appearance here honors volunteers in the continuing Project AID-Project Headstart program this winter. Omaha last year instituted the nation's first and largest volunteer project on behalf of disadvantaged pre-schoolers. The Project is sponsored by the Omaha Public Schools, working with the UCS Volunteer Bureau of Omaha. Mrs. Humphrey will address volunteers at a 1:30 p.m. reception at the Blackstone Hotel.

Road Dept. To Open Bids Sept. 30

The State Roads Department announced Thursday it will open bids Sept. 30 on two road projects estimated to cost $1.1 million in Douglas, Madison and Stanton Counties.

Included is grading, paving and installation of culverts and guard rails along 9.1 miles of U.S. Highway 275 between Norfolk and the State Highway 57 junction.

Also up for bids will be construction of one bridge and detour work on West Dodge St. at the proposed interchange at 102nd St. in Douglas County.

The projects are to be financed with $460,000 in federal aid primary funds, $165,000 in sanitary and improvement district funds, and $475,000 in state construction funds, the department said.

Simulated War Conditions Test Set At LAFB

Lincoln Air Force Base personnel will spend at least 12 hours being tested under simulated war conditions during the annual "Great Effort" exercise next Thursday, base officials announced.

The exercise is designed to test the base's ability to carry out retaliation under attack, and to test shelter control, radiation dosage control and ability to cope with casualties.

Officials said the base will be closed down to all personnel not connected with the operations, and the dispensary and dental clinic will remain open for emergency service only.

Personnel will spend the majority of the exercise in shelters, with time outside shelters strictly controlled.

Charter Study Panel Has Secret Meet

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Charter Revision Committee met with City Council members in a closed session Tuesday night, according to committee chairman Richard Hansen.

Hansen Thursday confirmed that the meeting was held at the Bankers Life Nebraska office building at Cotner and O and that reporters were not invited to attend.

"We've been trying to arrange the meeting for three months," Hansen said, "because some committee members were interested in the council's views, especially in the area of checks and balances."

Number of Issues

He said that no decisions were reached, but a number of issues were discussed which would possibly result in charter revisions, including:

—The number of votes required to override the mayor's veto.

—A charter provision stipulating a salary for the acting mayor.

—Changing the present dates of the fiscal year.

—The possibility of adopting a code of ethics for the mayor, council and all city employees.

—Whether to recommend the adoption of an administrative code.

—Whether city departments should be set up by ordinance, rather than by charter.

Council View

Hansen said his committee has heard the executive point of view from the mayor and department heads, and "we thought it was about time we heard from the council."

He emphasized that he has consistently favored open sessions of the committee, but added, "it's just the plain truth that some members of our committee would rather express their opinions without the press being present".

Hansen has previously been overruled by a majority of the committee on the question of executive session. The committee has so far met 3 times secretly to discuss possible charter revisions that will later be submitted to the public.

He said that a formal meeting of the group will be held later this month. He also said that the reports of all subcommittees will be ready around the first of October and that an open meeting would be held concerning the subject of public records.

Two Universities Orient Freshman

New students in Lincoln's two universities are being kept busy this week with crammed orientation schedules of counseling, registration, tours, testing and social events.

Some 4,000 freshmen are expected for the introductory convocation at the University of Nebraska Friday morning. Nebraska Wesleyan University reported more than 550 new students on campus for orientation week.

Many of the NU freshmen participated in the summer orientation, spending a day and a half on campus with counselors and registering in an early orientation program. The rest of the new students began registering Wednesday and met with group counselors Thursday.

Vice Chancellor E. Robert Ross, dean of student affairs, will preside at the opening convocation Friday for all University freshmen and new students. President of the NU student council, Kent Neumeister of Nebraska City, Chancellor Clifford Hardin and Associate Dean Lee Chatfield also will address the new people.

"Cornhusker Night" Thursday featured a barbecue and rally for the freshmen, and a fashion show for the girls. A "frosh hop" is scheduled in the Union ballroom Friday night.

University classes begin Monday.

A brief opening convocation for new Nebraska Wesleyan University students preceded a battery of tests which are being administered throughout the orientation week.

New NWU Plainsmen, on campus Wednesday for a parents convocation, will be engaged in counseling, registration, testing, and fraternity and sorority rush during the week before classes start next Thursday. A round of social activities also is planned for the new students, including dances, swimming party, movie, picnic and watermelon feed.

Union College, which also opens for classes Thursday, does not start orientation activities for new students until Monday, according to Dr. Lowell Welch, dean of student affairs.

Murphy Named Defense Counsel For Alexander

Lincoln attorney Lawrence E. Murphy has been named defense counsel for Larry Alexander by U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt.

Alexander, 18, was apprehended after a manhunt in Richardson County on Sept. 7 and charged with violating the Dyer act, transporting a stolen vehicle across a state line and with forging a signature on a U.S. postal money order.

Alexander, a Fort Sill, Okla., soldier, triggered the manhunt when he reportedly threatened a Richardson County law officer with a gun.

Alexander was scheduled to enter a plea to the federal charges at a later date.

CITY COUNCIL TO CONSIDER MAYOR RAISE

An ordinance setting Mayor Dean Petersen's annual salary at $16,500 will be presented to the City Council Monday.

The council had earlier agreed to the $1,500 raise during budget hearings.

The City Charter provides that the mayor will be payed more than the highest paid departmental director and that the amount of the salary will be determined by the council.

The council passed an ordinance in 1962 setting the mayor's salary at $15,000 following charter changes which provided for the strong mayor form of government.

Widows Of Rail Workers Would Benefit From Bill

Washington (AP)—Rep. Glenn Cunningham, R-Neb., introduced a bill providing that widows of railroad workers be entitled to financial aid on behalf of children up to age 22 who are attending school.

He said the bill would grant such children equal treatment with the children of deceased Social Security workers. At present the railroad retirement act cuts off benefits to children at the age of 18.

Charter Study Panel Has Secret Meet

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The City Charter Revision Committee met with City Council members in a closed session Thursday night, according to committee chairman Richard Hansen.

Hansen Thursday confirmed that the meeting was held at the Bankers Life Nebraska office building at Cotner and O and that reporters were not invited to attend.

"We've been [illegible] the meeting for [illegible]," Hansen said. [illegible] committee members were interested in the council's views, especially in the area of checks and balances."

Number of Issues

He said that no decisions were reached, but a number of issues were discussed which would possibly result in charter revisions including:

—The number of votes required to override the mayor's veto.

—A charter provision stipulating a salary for the acting mayor.

—Changing the present dates of the fiscal year.

—The possibility of adopting a code of ethics for the mayor, council and all city employees.

—Whether to recommend the adoption of an administrative code.

—Whether city departments should be set up by ordinance, rather than by charter.

Council View

Hansen said his committee has heard the executive point of view from the mayor and department heads, and "we thought it was about time we heard from the council."

He emphasized that he has consistently favored open sessions of the committee, but added, "it's just the plain truth that some members of our committee would rather express their opinions without the press being present".

'Free Hunt' Is Changed By Economy

By RICHARD BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

An unrelenting economic change may soon force Nebraska sportsman to re-evaluate their belief that the right of access to private farm land for hunting and fishing is an American heritage, according to Glen Vollmar, ag economist at the University of Nebraska.

Vollmar, addressing the Great Plains Habitat Conference in Lincoln Thursday, said he thought the old free hunting theory was a "myth."

The economics behind farming, as well as city living, has all but brought an end to "free hunting," Vollmar said.

Free hunting privileges have been taking a beating lately under a new move afoot by farmers to cash in on the ever increasing number of sportsman who turn out for various hunting and fishing seasons.

Co-Ops For Hunters

In some areas, farmers have formed co-ops which aid hunters such as providing quarters, guide services and use of dogs—all for a price.

Present trends which point to the end of free hunting, Vollmar said, are:

—More people are hunting and fishing.

—Seventy to eighty per cent of all hunting and fishing is done on private land.

—Posted land in various counties now runs from 40-90%.

—In 1964, the average hunter had an annual income of $7,000.

—Today, the city-bound sportsman's job is easier, he has more time and his transportation to game areas is better.

Chamber Promotion

—Promotions by chambers of commerce add greatly to the number of in-state and out-of-state sportsman.

"It is nothing, today, for a farmer to have a quarter of a million dollars invested in a farming operation,' Vollmar said.

That farmer isn't going to jeopardize that kind of an outlay to sportsman, he added.

"Farmers must also worry about accidents on their land. Every time a farmer stops to talk to a hunter, it costs him time, which is money."

Gain For Time

Since farming, like other industry, is highly organized and costly, "there must be an obvious gain for a farmer to take time with sportsman, Vollmar said.

"We can either provide the farmer with dollars and cents, or remove through education the kind of nuisance that costs the farmer money."

Vollmar termed the situation one of "supply and demand," and cited five ways in which supply and demand could be brought closer together. Methods include forming private clubs which is expensive, using public grounds, individual farmers operating for a fee, farmer coops, and leasing private land by clubs or individuals.

"The market could be better developed if the farmer and sportsman worked together. The farmer would give better production, the outdoorsman would come closer to filling his bag or creel and all would be pulled closer together."

Unless it goes this way, there will be more pressure from the sportsman and less cooperation from the land owner, he added.

Defer Decision On Scott College Grant Request

The Nebraska Higher Education Facilities Act Commission Thursday deferred a decision on the application of Hiram Scott College at Scottsbluff for a $390,000 federal grant to erect the new school's first building.

The commission asked the college to furnish better evidence of financial security that the college has in cash or firm pledges the $350,000 the college said it could furnish when the grant application was submitted in July.

Dr. Merle Stoneman of the University of Nebraska, a part-time commission consultant who suggested the deferment step, said there has been "some concern of the financial ability of the college to meet its share of the project costs."

The college seeks funds to construct a $1,384,331 combination library-science-classroom facility.

The college is scheduled to open its doors to a class of 400 next month in rented quarters in downtown Scottsbluff.

'Free Hunt' Is Changed By Economy

By RICHARD BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

An unrelenting economic change may soon force Nebraska sportsman to re-evaluate their belief that the right of access to private farm land for hunting and fishing is an American heritage, according to Glen Vollmar, ag economist at the University of Nebraska.

Vollmar, addressing the Great Plains Habitat Conference in Lincoln Thursday, said he thought the old free hunting theory was a "myth."

The economics behind farming, as well as city living, has all but brought an end to "free hunting," Vollmar said.

Free hunting privileges have been taking a beating lately under a new move afoot by farmers to cash in on the ever increasing number of sportsman who turn out for various hunting and fishing seasons.

Co-Ops For Hunters

In some areas, farmers have formed co-ops which aid hunters such as providing quarters, guide services and use of dogs—all for a price.

Present trends which point to the end of free hunting, Vollmar said, are:

—More people are hunting and fishing.

—Seventy to eighty per cent of all hunting and fishing is done on private land.

—Posted land in various counties now runs from 40-90%.

—In 1964, the average hunter had an annual income of $7,000.

—Today, the city-bound sportsman's job is easier, he has more time and his transportation to game areas is better.

Chamber Promotion

—Promotions by chambers of commerce add greatly to the number of in-state and out-of-state sportsman.

"It is nothing, today, for a farmer to have a quarter of a million dollars invested in a farming operation,' Vollmar said.

That farmer isn't going to jeopardize that kind of an outlay to sportsman, he added.

"Farmers must also worry about accidents on their land. Every time a farmer stops to talk to a hunter, it costs him time, which is money."

Gain For Time

Since farming, like other industry, is highly organized and costly, "there must be an obvious gain for a farmer to take time with sportsman, Vollmar said.

"We can either provide the farmer with dollars and cents, or remove through education the kind of nuisance that costs the farmer money."

Vollmar termed the situation one of "supply and demand," and cited five ways in which supply and demand could be brought closer together. Methods include forming private clubs which is expensive, using public grounds, individual farmers operating for a fee, farmer coops, and leasing private land by clubs or individuals.

"The market could be better developed if the farmer and sportsman worked together. The farmer would give better production, the outdoorsman would come closer to filling his bag or creel and all would be pulled closer together."

Unless it goes this way, there will be more pressure from the sportsman and less cooperation from the land owner, he added.

Defer Decision On Scott College Grant Request

The Nebraska Higher Education Facilities Act Commission Thursday deferred a decision on the application of Hiram Scott College at Scottsbluff for a $390,000 federal grant to erect the new school's first building.

The commission asked the college to furnish better evidence of financial security that the college has in cash or firm pledges the $350,000 the college said it could furnish when the grant application was submitted in July.

Dr. Merle Stoneman of the University of Nebraska, a part-time commission consultant who suggested the deferment step, said there has been "some concern of the financial ability of the college to meet its share of the project costs."

The college seeks funds to construct a $1,384,331 combination library-science-classroom facility.

The college is scheduled to open its doors to a class of 400 next month in rented quarters in downtown Scottsbluff.

Stock Prices Advance In Active Mart

New York (AP)—The stock market took a new lease on life Thursday, rising again on the largest volume in more than two months.

It was the sixth straight advance on average.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 3.79 to 917.47.

Volume swelled to 7.37 million shares from 6.26 million Wednesday and was the biggest since June 29 when 10.49 million shares changed hands.

Considerable credit for the large rise in volume was given by brokers to stock-market-conscious Florida whose east coast was swamped the previous day by Hurricane Betsy. The pentup orders flowed in Thursday after one session of frustration.

The advance was a strange mixture of solid buying in blue chips and adventurous speculation in secondary issues.

General Motors ran up 1¼ to 103½, aided again by renewed published reports that the giant automaker might declare a stock split.

Radio Corp., heavily traded and up ⅜, was helped by news that it plans a $10-million advertising and sales-promotion campaign.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .8 to 338.0 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .1 and utilities up .6.

Of 1,395 issues traded, 651 advanced and 474 declined. New highs for the year totaled 88 and new lows 13.

Twelve of the 15 most-active stocks advanced, 2 declined and Chrysler was unchanged.

Anaconda switched from an early gain nearing 2 points to a net loss of 1 and traders said profits were taken on recent strength.

Kennecott rose 1, International Nickel 1⅜, Westinghouse Electric 1⅛, IBM 2¼, Xerox 3⅛ and High Voltage Engineering 1⅝.

Grain Market Prices Mixed

Chicago (AP)—Soybeans and grain futures prices followed a mixed pattern on the Board of Trade Thursday, with wheat and rye closing higher but corn, oats and soybeans posting losses for the day.

The wheat market opened firm on buying by local traders and by houses with commercial interests. But a midday slump came after posting of delivery notices effective Friday on 2.5 million bushels in the expiring September contract. A late rally lifted prices into the plus column again.

There was pronounced weakness in September soybean contracts because of more favorable weather for drying plants and conditioning the crop for harvest.

At the close wheat was ¼ to ⅝ cents a bushel higher, September $1.54⅝-½; corn was ½ to 2 cents lower, September $1.22⅛-22; oats ⅜ to ¾ lower, September 68; rye ¼ to ½ higher, September $1.17¾ and soybeans ⅞ to 2⅜ lower, September $2.52¾-⅝.

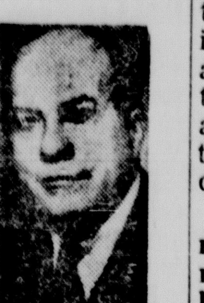
Reader Asks About Variety In Investing

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A reader in Utah, a physician, raises the question of how much diversification is needed in managing investments.



Rukeyser

The late Orlando F. Weber, builder of Allied Chemical, used to remark that many persons overdo diversification. In contrast, he advocated selecting a handful of well managed, growing corporations and keeping close tabs on them.

This reader writes: "I am starting an account for my wife with the Johnson Mutual Fund. My wife is still somewhat disturbed, thinking that though the mutual fund supplies diversification that we should diversify further by investing in more than one mutual fund. Do you think investment in a single no-load mutual fund, such as the Johnson Fund, is sufficient diversification?"

The question is like asking a doctor after a health examination, "Can anything happen to me?" The proper reply would be: "Yes, you might be run over on the highway."

As of the end of last year, the Johnson Mutual Fund was widely diversified with 91.4% of its assets in 58 common and preferred stocks and the remainder in cash, government obligations and corporate bonds. The industries covered by common stock commitments included: banking and insurance, building, electrical equipment & electronic, food & beverage, oil, printing & publishing, transportation, public utility and miscellaneous.

In 1947 this no-load fund was established as a balanced open end mutual fund by a well-known investment counsel firm. The fund has shown an upward trend in liquidating value. In the last decade, there was year to year growth except in 1957 and 1962.

The fund has a plan for outomatic reinvestment of dividends.

If the reader wants me to say that this vehicle is foolproof, it should be pointed out that investing is not riskless but consists of the discipline of calculating and appraising risks. This fund is a method for achieving diversification automatically. Past managerial performance has been satisfactory.

The only advantage, if there is any, of buying a second fund would be to hedge against the possibility that time might conceivably bring a deterioration in the quality of management. Past performance, however, throws out no such warning signal. But any investment manager or counsellor acts "for the account and risk" of the customer.

Such an investment procedure relieves busy men and women in specialized vocations from undue pressure on their own time. The reader highlights this aspect by pointing out: "I have scattered holdings in odd lot stock purchases worth about $2,000."

He adds: "I have adequate life insurance and will start estate planning through a lawyer and a trust department of a bank. I am saving also through contribution to the AMA retirement fund (investment) under the Keogh provision ($2,500 a year)."

If this investor isn't careful, he may be paying for more investment counsel-management service than he needs. If, for example, he is to continue putting savings in the mutual fund, he doesn't need to pay a trustee for supervising it. If he intends to set up a living trust, he can substitute for a second mutual fund a commitment in a common trust fund operated by a bank or trust company.

Q. A Milwaukee wife, who reads the column, asks how much life insurance her husband needs. He now carries a total in excess of $120,000 and also major medical. The couple has two young children and the husband, a professional man, aged 34, grosses $25,000 a year and the trend is upward. The couple owns a home, has $4,500 in cash savings and $5,000 in stocks. The wife has a hidden asset in potential earning power of $7,000 a year. She writes: "This is our situation and we urgently need an impartial opinion of our insurance program."

A. Stop being pressured by commission-hungry salesmen. Your husband has been both frugal and provident. One should buy insurance only to meet specific human needs. The wife's earning power is equivalent to about $140,000 in capital or in insurance proceeds, although unless her life is insured, this resource could be destroyed by death. I suggest that a well qualified insurance underwriter be asked to audit existing contracts to see if there is a way to reduce premiums.

In building educational funds for young children, the father should begin making a larger ratio of his saved income available for selected growth stocks or shares of well managed mutual funds or common trust funds. Too large a ratio of the husband's estate is in fixed dollar commitments, which provide no adequate hedge against inflation, a future rise in living costs and against the increasing cost of educating children.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Hospital Ward Quarantined As Of Second Death

Sonoma, Calif. (AP)—A Sonoma state hospital ward was quarantined Thursday after the death of an 18-year-old patient from meningitis.

It was the second fatality from the disease in six weeks, the hospital said. An 11-year-old patient died July 29.

Hospital officials said they did not regard the two cases as constituting an epidemic.

Eighty patients and 15 hospital personnel were given sulfa drugs as a preventive measure.

The hospital cares for mentally retarded children.

Stock Prices Advance In Active Mart

New York (AP)—The stock market took a new lease on life Thursday, rising again on the largest volume in more than two months.

It was the sixth straight advance on average.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 3.79 to 917.47.

Volume swelled to 7.37 million shares from 6.26 million Wednesday and was the biggest since June 29 when 10.49 million shares changed hands.

Considerable credit for the large rise in volume was given by brokers to stock-market-conscious Florida whose east coast was swamped the previous day by Hurricane Betsy. The pentup orders flowed in Thursday after one session of frustration.

The advance was a strange mixture of solid buying in blue chips and adventurous speculation in secondary issues.

General Motors ran up 1¼ to 103½, aided again by renewed published reports that the giant automaker might declare a stock split.

Radio Corp., heavily traded and up ⅜, was helped by news that it plans a $10-million advertising and sales-promotion campaign.

Steels continued laggard as the Street continued to worry about the cost-price squeeze arising from the union agreement, but U.S. Steel managed to close unchanged and other losses were trivial.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .8 to 338.0 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .1 and utilities up .6.

Of 1,395 issues traded, 651 advanced and 474 declined. New highs for the year totaled 88 and new lows 13.

Twelve of the 15 most-active stocks advanced, 2 declined and Chrysler was unchanged.

Anaconda switched from an early gain nearing 2 points to a net loss of 1 and traders said profits were taken on recent strength.

Kennecott rose 1, International Nickel 1⅜, Westinghouse Electric 1⅛, IBM 2¼, Xerox 3⅛ and High Voltage Engineering 1⅝.

Grain Market Prices Mixed

Chicago (AP)—Soybeans and grain futures prices followed a mixed pattern on the Board of Trade Thursday, with wheat and rye closing higher but corn, oats and soybeans posting losses for the day.

The wheat market opened firm on buying by local traders and by houses with commercial interests. But a mid-day slump came after posting of delivery notices effective Friday on 2.5 million bushels in the expiring September contract. A late rally lifted prices into the plus column again.

There was pronounced weakness in September soybean contracts because of more favorable weather for drying plants and conditioning the crop for harvest.

At the close wheat was ¼ to ⅝ cents a bushel higher, September $1.54⅝-½; corn was ½ to 2 cents lower, September $1.22¼-22; oats ⅜ to ¾ lower, September 68; rye ¼ to ½ higher, September $1.17¾ and soybeans ⅞ to 2⅜ lower, September $2.52¾-⅝.

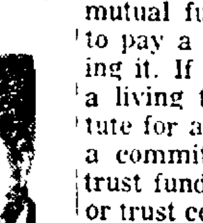
EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Reader Asks About Variety In Investing

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

A reader in Utah, a physician, raises the question of how much diversification is needed in managing investments



Rukeyser

The late Orlando F. Weber, builder of Allied Chemical, used to remark that many persons overdo diversification. In contrast, he advocated selecting a handful of well managed, growing corporations and keeping close tabs on them.

This reader writes: "I am starting an account for my wife with the Johnson Mutual Fund. My wife is still somewhat disturbed, thinking that though the mutual fund supplies diversification that we should diversify further by investing in more than one mutual fund. Do you think investment in a single no-load mutual fund, such as the Johnson Fund, is sufficient diversification?"

The question is like asking a doctor after a health examination, "Can anything happen to me?" The proper reply would be: "Yes, you might be run over on the highway."

As of the end of last year, the Johnson Mutual Fund was widely diversified with 91.4% of its assets in 58 common and preferred stocks and the remainder in cash, government obligations and corporate bonds. The industries covered by common stock commitments included: banking and insurance, building, electrical equipment & electronic, food & beverage, oil, printing & publishing, transportation, public utility and miscellaneous.

In 1947 this no-load fund was established as a balanced open end mutual fund by a well-known investment counsel firm. The fund has shown an upward trend in liquidating value. In the last decade, there was year to year growth except in 1957 and 1962.

The fund has a plan for automatic reinvestment of dividends.

If the reader wants me to say that this vehicle is foolproof, it should be pointed out that investing is not riskless but consists of the discipline of calculating and appraising risks. This fund is a method for achieving diversification automatically. Past managerial performance has been satisfactory.

The only advantage, if there is any, of buying a second fund would be to hedge against the possibility that time might conceivably bring a deterioration in the quality of management. Past performance, however, throws out no such warning signal. But any investment manager or counsellor acts "for the account and risk" of the customer.

Such an investment procedure relieves busy men and women in specialized vocations from undue pressure on their own time. The reader highlights this aspect by pointing out "I have scattered holdings in odd lot stock purchases worth about $2,000."

He adds: "I have adequate life insurance and will start estate planning through a lawyer and a trust department of a bank. I am saving also through contribution to the AMA retirement fund (investment) under the Keogh provision ($2,500 a year)."

If this investor isn't careful, he may be paying for more investment counsel-management service than he needs. If, for example, he is to continue putting savings in the mutual fund, he doesn't need to pay a trustee for supervising it. If he intends to set up a living trust, he can substitute for a second mutual fund a commitment in a common trust fund operated by a bank or trust company.

Q. A Milwaukee wife, who reads the column, asks how much life insurance her husband needs. He now carries a total in excess of $120,000 and also major medical. The couple has two young children and the husband, a professional man, aged 34, grosses $25,000 a year and the trend is upward. The couple owns a home, has $4,500 in cash savings and $5,000 in stocks. The wife has a hidden asset in potential earning power of $7,000 a year. She writes: "This is our situation and we urgently need an impartial opinion of our insurance program."

A. Stop being pressured by commission-hungry salesmen. Your husband has been both frugal and provident. One should buy insurance only to meet specific human needs. The wife's earning power is equivalent to about $140,000 in capital or in insurance proceeds, although unless her life is insured, this resource could be destroyed by death. I suggest that a well qualified insurance underwriter be asked to audit existing contracts to see if there is a way to reduce premiums.

In building educational funds for young children, the father should begin making a larger ratio of his saved income available for selected growth stocks or shares of well managed mutual funds or common trust funds. Too large a ratio of the husband's estate is in fixed dollar commitments, which provide no adequate hedge against inflation a future rise in living costs and against the increasing cost of educating children.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Hospital Ward Quarantined As Of Second Death

Sonoma, Calif. (AP)—A Sonoma state hospital ward was quarantined Thursday after the death of an 18-year-old patient from meningitis.

It was the second fatality from the disease in six weeks, the hospital said. An 11-year-old patient died July 29

Hospital officials said they did not regard the two cases as constituting an epidemic.

Eighty patients and 15 hospital personnel were given sulfa drugs as a preventive measure.

The hospital cares for mentally retarded children.

More LBJ-Type Presidents To Make Congress Impotent

. . . SAYS POLITICAL SCIENTIST DEXTER

Washington (AP) — If the next few presidents resemble Lyndon B. Johnson, Congress may become as powerless as Great Britain's House of Lords, a political scientist said Thursday.

Lewis A. Dexter, a political consultant from Belmont, Mass., said many Americans, among them poor people and Negroes, are beginning to view Congress as "an obstacle to what they want."

Dexter told a panel session of the American Political Science Association changes that now would be incredible may come in Congress within the next few years.

He said Congress may redesign its own function and nature.

Ratifying Agency

"Or . . ." he said, "the Congress may, especially if the next few presidents resemble Lyndon Johnson, become more and more a ratifying agency, occasionally capable of engaging in vetoes, with about as much importance in the American political system as the House of Lords has in Britain."

At another session, a freshman House member denied that Congress, which this year has approved an unprecedented parcel of legislation sought by Johnson, has become a rubber stamp for the White House.

Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., said most Johnson proposals have been significantly altered in congressional committees.

But Hamilton conceded he does not think Congress now has the legislative initiative it should possess. "The initiative has shifted to the executive branch . . ." he said. "The question can well be asked, 'Are we a coordinate branch of the government?'"

Rossiter To Feet

That brought political scientist Clinton Rossiter of Cornell University to his feet. "Why should you have the initiative?" he called from the rear of the hall. "Damn it all, things have shifted, you can't initiate any more."

" . . . We have a perspective that the executive doesn't have," Hamilton countered.

"I doubt it," Rossiter said.

Poor Communication Caused School Lands Hassle—Terry

Scottsbluff — State Sen. Terry Carpenter said Thursday an apparent lack of communication between the secretary of the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds and the board's chairman has stirred up the controversy over the sale of school lands.

The Legislature recently passed a law ordering all state-owned school lands be sold instead of rented out. However, H. K. Blackledge of Kearney, board chairman, said this week he doesn't see where the money will come from to go through the administrative procedure of selling the lands.

Blackledge blamed the Legislature for not providing the funds.

Thursday Carpenter said board Secretary John Olson had made committments to him and a legislative committee on which he served, and the problem is "the board's, not the legislature's."

"I didn't know the Legislature had to see there was a line of communication between the board secretary and its chairman," the Scottsbluff lawmaker said. "If there is a lack of communication, he ought to get another secretary and not blame the senate for it."

Carpenter said earlier he had visited with Olson and was assured money authorized for appraisals and noxious weed control would foot the bill for sale preparations.

WHO'LL PLAY WITH ME?

That could be the question behind the somewhat sad expression in the eyes of Dusty as he waits for his summertime playmate to scoop up the books under his chin and hurry off to school in Cleveland.

Valentine Clinic To Aid Victim Of Rabid Skunk

Valentine (UPI)—A Valentine doctor said a local clinic would provide help for a St. Francis, S. D., father who is threatened by "a very agonizing death" because he has no money to pay for further anti-rabies treatments.

Dr. T. W. Deakin said late Thursday the clinic would arrange to complete the treatments.

Earlier in the day Gerald Covey, 43, who pried the locked jaws of a rabid skunk from his neck 26 days ago, said he could not complete the 14-21 day series of injections.

Covey received several treatments at hospitals in both Martin, S.D., and Valentine, Neb., up to 10 days following his encounter with the skunk, but the treatments cost him over $300.

"I was supposed to go back for more shots, but I ain't got no way of getting down there," he said. "I had a car but it went fizzle and I ain't got any money."

Covey was given work at the St. Francis Catholic Mission to help finance the treatments. However, he said his first treatment cost him $60. "I can't afford that," he said.

Covey, a white man living in an Indian community on the Rosebud Reservation, can't be helped at the Rosebud Public Health Service Hospital because he is white.

Time may be running short for Covey. The State Public Health Service said the first symptoms may appear within four to six weeks.

It begins with apprehension, headache and a fever, and advances to dilerium, convulsions and paralysis. Death usually occurs within two to six days.

Covey was bitten when the father of six children moved his family's beds outside their trailer home during a hot spell. Covey awoke during the night with the skunk's teeth locked in his neck "like a bear trap. I had a devil of a time prying his mouth open."

Covey strangled the skunk. He cut off the animal's head and sent it in for examination. State Health officials identified the skunk as being "definitely rabid."

Doctors are amazed that Covey has lived this long. However, they fear that even if he gets help now it may be too late.

"I'm still feeling fine," Covey said Thursday. "You can take all the shots in the world but if you're going to die, you're going to die."

Policeman Sees His Own Brother Robbing Store

Rutherford, N.J. (AP) — A youth made a run for it from a burglarized store that police had surrounded early Thursday.

He was recognized and arrested at home, police reported, because his brother, Patrolman Edward P. Caughey, was one of the officers who had tried to capture him. Their father is Police Lt. Edward S. Caughey, a veteran of some 15 years on the force.

Police said the suspect, Kenneth Caughey, 19, was charged with breaking and entering and larceny, as was John Anderson, 20, of Hasbrouck Heights, who was seized inside the store.

More LBJ-Type Presidents To Make Congress Impotent

. . . SAYS POLITICAL SCIENTIST DEXTER

Washington (AP) — If the next few presidents resemble Lyndon B. Johnson Congress may become as powerless as Great Britain's House of Lords a political scientist said Thursday.

Lewis A. Dexter, a political consultant from Belmont, Mass., said many Americans, among them poor people and Negroes, are beginning to view Congress as "an obstacle to what they want."

Dexter told a panel session of the American Political Science Association changes that now would be incredible may come in Congress within the next few years.

He said Congress may redesign its own function and nature.

Ratifying Agency

"O[illegible] . . ." he said, "the Congress may, especially if the next few presidents resemble Lyndon Johnson, become more and more a ratifying agency, occasionally capable of engaging in vetoes, with about as much importance in the American political system as the House of Lords has in Britain."

At another session, a freshman House member denied that Congress, which this year has approved an unprecedented parcel of legislation sought by Johnson, has become a rubber stamp for the White House.

Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., said most Johnson proposals have been significantly altered in congressional committees.

But Hamilton conceded he does not think Congress now has the legislative initiative it should possess. "The initiative has shifted to the executive branch . . ." he said. "The question can well be asked, 'Are we a coordinate branch of the government?'"

Rossiter To Feet

That brought political scientist Clinton Rossiter of Cornell University to his feet. "Why should you have the initiative?" he called from the rear of the hall. "Damn it all, things have shifted, you can't initiate any more."

". . . We have a perspective that the executive doesn't have," Hamilton countered.

"I doubt it," Rossiter said.

Poor Communication Caused School Lands Hassle—Terry

Scottsbluff — State Sen. Terry Carpenter said Thursday an apparent lack of communication between the secretary of the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds and the board's chairman has stirred up the controversy over the sale of school lands.

The Legislature recently passed a law ordering all state-owned school lands be sold instead of rented out. However, H. K. Blackledge of Kearney, board chairman, said this week he doesn't see where the money will come from to go through the administrative procedure of selling the lands.

Blackledge blamed the Legislature for not providing the funds.

Thursday Carpenter said board Secretary John Olson had made committments to him and a legislative committee on which he served, and the problem is "the board's, not the legislature's."

"I didn't know the Legislature had to see there was a line of communication between the board secretary and its chairman," the Scottsbluff lawmaker said. "If there is a lack of communication, he ought to get another secretary and not blame the senate for it."

Carpenter said earlier he had visited with Olson and was assured money authorized for appraisals and noxious weed control would foot the bill for sale preparations.

WHO'LL PLAY WITH ME?

That could be the question behind the somewhat sad expression in the eyes of Dusty as he waits for his summertime playmate to scoop up the books under his chin and hurry off to school in Cleveland.

Valentine Clinic To Aid Victim Of Rabid Skunk

Valentine (UPI)—A Valentine doctor said a local clinic would provide help for a St. Francis, S. D., father who is threatened by "a very agonizing death" because he has no money to pay for further anti-rabies treatments.

Dr. T. W. Deakin said late Thursday the clinic would arrange to complete the treatments.

Earlier in the day Gerald Covey, 43, who pried the locked jaws of a rabid skunk from his neck 26 days ago, said he could not complete the 14-21 day series of injections.

Covey received several treatments at hospitals in both Martin, S.D., and Valentine, Neb., up to 10 days following his encounter with the skunk, but the treatments cost him over $300.

"I was supposed to go back for more shots, but I ain't got no way of getting down there," he said. "I had a car but it went fizzle and I ain't got any money."

Covey was given work at the St. Francis Catholic Mission to help finance the treatments. However, he said his first treatment cost him $60. "I can't afford that," he said.

Covey, a white man living in an Indian community on the Rosebud Reservation, can't be helped at the Rosebud Public Health Service Hospital because he is white.

Time may be running short for Covey. The State Public Health Service said the first symptoms may appear within four to six weeks.

It begins with apprehension, headache and a fever, and advances to dilerium, convulsions and paralysis. Death usually occurs within two to six days.

Covey was bitten when the father of six children moved his family's beds outside their trailer home during a hot spell. Covey awoke during the night with the skunk's teeth locked in his neck "like a bear trap. I had a devil of a time prying his mouth open."

Covey strangled the skunk. He cut off the animal's head and sent it in for examination. State Health officials identified the skunk as being "definitely rabid."

Doctors are amazed that Covey has lived this long. However, they fear that even if he gets help now it may be too late.

"I'm still feeling fine," Covey said Thursday. "You can take all the shots in the world but if you're going to die, you're going to die."

Policeman Sees His Own Brother Robbing Store

Rutherford, N.J. (AP) — A youth made a run for it from a burglarized store that police had surrounded early Thursday.

He was recognized and arrested at home, police reported, because his brother, Patrolman Edward P. Caughey, was one of the officers who had tried to capture him. Their father is Police Lt. Edward S. Caughey, a veteran of some 15 years on the force.

Police said the suspect, Kenneth Caughey, 19, was charged with breaking and entering and larceny, as was John Anderson, 20, of Hasbrouck Heights, who was seized inside the store.
